AFI-CIO Near Official Ouster Of Teamsters

Appeals Panel Approves Expulsion; Corruption Evidence Cited Anew

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The AFL - CIO Appeal Committee today recommended expulsion of the corruption tainted Teamsters Union from the 15-million-member federation.

The committee's report said the Teamsters Union "has been and continues to be dominated or substantially influenced by corrupt influences."

Committee Secretary John J. Murphy of the Bricklayers Union read the 14-page report to the AFL-CIO convention.

A two - thirds vote on a roll call this afternoon will expel the union from the federation. With its 1½ million members, the Teamsters represents 10 per cent of AFL-CIO membership.

The expulsion of the Teamsters climaxes testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee linking high Teamsters bosses to misuse of vast sums of union funds.

JAMES HOFFA, the union's president-elect, refused to the last to step aside—the main condition fixed by AFL-CIO leaders as the price for avoiding expulsion.

Four other unions (the Laundry, Bakery, Distillery and United Textile Workers unions) face similar expulsion action at next week's sessions of the AFL-CIO convention, also on charges based on disclosures before congressional committees.

The Distillery Workers were given a chance Thursday night for certain officers to quit, but they declined, and as a result face suspension and expulsion.

Expulsion action against the Teamsters caused private misgivings among leaders of other AFL-CIO unions. The building trades have said possibly in a resolution opposing Teamsters punishment that the same thing might occur to other unions whose leaders were accused of corruption.

But AFL-CIO President George Meany pushed the Teamsters expulsion as an example for organized labor that corruption would be dealt with harshly.

Meany's stand was publicly applauded by President Eisenhower in a message to the AFL-CIO convention delivered by Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

Mitchell went on to outline a program of amendments to the Taft-Hartley law which he said Eisenhower will propose to Congress in January. They dealt both with the labor corruption issues and with other "appropriate and timely" changes in the nation's labor laws.

The administration legislative proposals called for strict disclosure and accounting for union funds and practices, election of union officers at least every four years by secret members' ballot, and a bribery ban on union and management representatives passing money to each other.

Mitchell pledged President Eisenhower as being opposed to enactment of any national "right-to-work" law, opposed by unions; applying the antitrust laws to labor organizations, or tightening political spending bans against unions.

Lebanon Girl, 6, Killed by Auto

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—Ferna Buergermeier, 6, was killed Thursday by an auto as she and her sister, Freda, 10, started to board a school bus along U.S. 42 near Lebanon.

Freda also was hurt but attaches at Middletown Hospital said she was not seriously injured.

State highway patrolmen said the driver of the automobile which struck the girls was Buddy C. Smith, 20, of Springfield. The patrolmen said Smith told them he did not see the halted school bus or a halted car across from it until he came over a rise in the road. He said he was unable to stop and swerved to the right, hitting the two girls.

Prober Lauds Ohioan for His Stand Against 'Blackjack' Union Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Akr) of the Senate Rackets Committee made an unusual request. He wanted the witness, Ohioan Roy Byrd, to remove his shirt.

Grinning and reddening slightly, the 30-year-old Cincinnati truck official obliged—baring an ugly scar on his right shoulder inflicted by a bullet during a Teamsters' strike last year.

Then McClellan told him gravely: "You'll have to carry that disability all of your life, all because your empoyer wouldn't sign a blackjack contract.

"This is the penalty you paid for standing up for your rights as an American. . . ."

The occasion was the investigation Thursday, by the committee, of Byrd's story of being shot from ambush while driving a truck during a strike by Teamsters Local 621, Knoxville, Tenn., against his employer, Newman & Pemberton Co., of Knoxville. Nobody to his knowledge, he said, was ever arrested for the shooting, which put him in the hospital for 29 days.

The strike, for recognition of the union as bargaining agent, was abandoned as a failure. Byrd is now manager of the trucking firm's Cincinnati terminal, unable, he says, ever to drive another truck because of the weakened right arm.

As Byrd told it, he was fired at on two occasions and received telephoned threats against his life because he was continuing to work during the strike.

The first time, he said, his assailants fired at him from an automobile July 30, 1956, as he was making a turn in his truck near Knoxville. He said they managed only to knock out two tires.

But the next time, Aug. 8, he testified, he was fired at from a "carefully planned" ambush on the ground while he was driving at a slow rate of speed up a hill near LaFollette, Tenn.

Bullets filled the cab of his truck, he said, and "one grazed my back and one went completely through my shoulder."

Byrd said his driving companion, L. L. Banks, would have been "shot through the head" except that he happened to be lying down at the time.

"Do you have a pretty good idea who did it?" McClellan asked.

"No, sir," Byrd replied, "I haven't the slightest idea. I couldn't name any names." Shortly before the shooting, Byrd said, both he and his wife were receiving threats on the telephone.

The callers, he said, told him "I wasn't supposed to work" and told his wife they would "roll me in a blanket and put me on the porch."

The Byrds, who live at 512 Loda Lane in suburban Cincinnati, have a 3-year-old daughter, Diane.

"Was your wife upset?" asked committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

"Yes," Byrd replied.

"Were you upset?" Kennedy asked.

"I was just mad," said Byrd.

Indonesia Now Expelling Dutch

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia began expelling Dutch subjects today in its hard-fisted campaign to win West New Guinea. At the same time reports poured in that Indonesian employes throughout this island republic were seizing Dutch business enterprises.

Justice minister Gustaaf Mangekom said the immediate get-out order meant "within three days, if I had my way, but that is impossible."

THE EXPULSION order was announced as the Indonesians heaped pressure on the Netherlands to yield West New Guinea, the half-island which the Dutch government retained after granting independence to the rest of these East Indies in 1949.

Reports poured into Jakarta from all parts of the far-flung islands of a snowballing movement by workers seizing Dutch - owned banks, hotels, plantations, factories, clubs and businesses.

The Jakarta government told the Dutch diplomatic mission it expects evacuation of all Dutch citizens, except those whose special skills Indonesia needs, to begin immediately.

Information Minister Sudibjo said in an announcement that Dutch nationals in key jobs must keep working or face imprisonment as violators of "war and siege" regulations.

One source said some 46,000 Dutch—all except skilled technicians—are slated to go. About two thirds of those marked for evacuation are Eurasians who were born in Indonesia and have lived here all their lives.

Thousands of Dutch besieged their embassy in Jakarta today in an effort to find out their future. Rumors flashed through the Indonesian capital.

THE DUTCH government showed no signs of bowing to the Indonesian pressure. It asked the International Red Cross and the International Refugee Organization to help in the evacuation.

Sources in The Hague said Holland could absorb the evacuees but because of a housing shortage

Stevenson Missionary Offer Said Ignored by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson offered to go to Paris last month as advance "missionary" spreading the idea of a new American cold war strategy. But the Eisenhower administration ignored his offer, according to information here.

It was learned that Stevenson proposed in a memo to Secretary of State Dulles early last month that he go to Paris as a private citizen in advance of the Dec. 16 meeting of NATO chieftains.

Stevenson's idea was that he could talk to his friends in Europe with a view to winning their support for an American plan for overcoming Soviet advances typified by the Sputnik satellite. Instead, he became a consultant in drawing up a program for the NATO meeting, although he has expressed reservations regarding the plans being developed.

Stevenson's view is that the Paris meeting will be devoted almost exclusively to strengthening NATO's military posture.

AS STEVENSON sees it, this is a time to enlarge and combine the skills and resources of the Western world so as to help develop backward areas.

Stevenson was invited by President Eisenhower last Tuesday to accompany the American delegation to the Paris meeting of NATO heads of government. He declined, saying his presence there would serve no useful purpose.

Stevenson was reported to have urged the administration to include in its NATO proposals a sweeping new concept of aid to underdeveloped countries.

It would involve a kind of Marshall Plan of no-strings, nonmilitary aid in the form of long-term loans for economic development, from the Western "have" nations to the "have-not" nations of Asia and Africa.

The former Illinois governor is said to be very pessimistic about the Paris meeting. This view apparently is shared by some other Democrats.

Stevenson was said to be particularly unhappy over prospects that Eisenhower, recuperating from a mild stroke and under doctors' care, might not be able to attend the Paris session. He compares holding a Western summit conference without Eisenhower to having a wedding without the bride.

Japan, Soviet OK Commerce Treaty

TOKYO (AP)—Japan and the Soviet Union today signed a commerce treaty expected to more than quadruple their trade to $28 million a year each way.

The new pact did not fix the amount of trade, but the Soviet Union agreed to sell Japan timber, manganese and chromium ore, crude oil, precious metals, nonferrous metals, fertilizer, chemical products, raw textiles, machinery, motion pictures, books and publications.

Japan will send the Soviets ships, rolling stock, machinery and equipment, electric equipment and installations, marine products, steel and nonferrous metals, cables, synthetic thread, and chemical products.

Pentagon Eyes Quick Building Of A-Airplane

Defense Officials Ponder Possible Race With Soviet Science

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials are trying to decide whether to race Russia for a prestige-establishing "first" in some flyable kind of atomic plane, or take more time to create one militarily useful.

A decision must be made in the next few months, it was said in responsible quarters today.

Some experts think any nuclear plane that could be built now would be too heavy and too slow for bombing. But they concede that even if it weren't the best, the first such plane would add to prestige.

The situation confronting the United States now is like that which it faced in the satellite program. The choice there was to keep the Vanguard satellite project on a simon-pure scientific basis, with almost no relation to the military missile front. Russia, making the military choice, won that race.

The Soviets also have launched the first atomic-powered surface ship although the U. S. is the leader in the atomic submarine field.

Looking still further ahead toward the time of warfare in space, the Pentagon will set up sometime this month a new Advance Research Projects Agency.

HEADED BY a civilian, the function of that upper echelon agency will be to define and develop future weapons which the individual services, preoccupied with today's troubles, may fail to discern or ignore. ARPA will be an operating outfit to develop new weapons and systems by itself independent of the individual services. It then will designate a service to operate the weapon or system it develops.

The interests of ARPA will be comprehensive, pointed to such things as space platforms or rockets reaching toward the moon.

A portion of the proposed $2 billion increase in the next defense budget may go to stepping up antisubmarine warfare projects and construction.

Another and much bigger portion of it would go into ballistic missile program. Part of that missile money is destined for augmentng the current Navy ballistic missile program.

Launching Rocket Explodes in Its Stand on Ground

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's first satellite launching vehicle exploded in its stand today. The Pentagon said in Washington another test probably could not be held for about 30 days.

There were no casualties.

A spokesman at Vanguard headquarters gave these details of the misfire:

"There was a loss of chamber pressure in the first stage after two seconds. The rocket fell back on the stand, toppled over toward the water to the east and exploded. The fire is now out."

This information was given out at 11:53 a.m. EST.

The American attempt to put a little 3¼-pound test sphere into a globe-circling course 300 miles up came more than a month after Russia had sent a 1,000-pound satellite aloft, and more than two months after the Soviets launched their Sputnik I.

Today's American test was a dismal failure.

There was a big flash of smoke and nothing left the ground. Apparently it blew up.

There was a tremendous blast of flame and then smoke shot up.

The launching attempt took place in bright sunshine, with only thinly flecked clouds in the sky.

Karpicak, a Purdue University graduate from Orlando, Fla., would fir only a signal from the Navy, however. The military would give the final "go."

At 11:27 a. m. (EST), 25 minutes short of launching time, a 10-minute hold was declared, deferring the firing time again.

A hoped for dawn launching failed to materialize after a series of "holds" interrupted the long and detailed countdown process which precedes any rocket firing.

The longest of these "holds" lasted from 2 a.m. to 5:30 a.m.

The final two hours before a launching are the most critical and frequently develop the most unexpected delays.

Russia Says U. S. Hides Red Rocket

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev charged tonight that part of the first Sputnik's carrier rocket fell on the United States last Sunday, but the Americans "do not want to give it back to us."

"We relied on them trusting in their decency, but they did not live up to our trust," he told a group of correspondents at a Finnish Embassy reception. "If an American Sputnik ever falls on Soviet territory, we will return it promptly to the United States."

Churches Call For Arms Cuts

War May Destroy All Civilization, Fear

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A national Christian gathering neared its close here today after calling for a harder push to achieve worldwide disarmament in the new age of rockets, nuclear weapons and satellites.

"We believe that the accelerating arms race which now grips our world may lead directly to a war which will destroy civilization," declared the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

"Efforts must be redoubled to realize the final goal of worldwide denominations in the framework of the United Nations."

The church leaders, representing most major Protestant and Orthodox denominations in the country, also urged the nation to rededicate itself to eternal principles of compassion and justice.

The assembly set forth specific recommendations on a host of issues but the general tone of the pronouncements was set against a background of timeless faith now shadowed by prodigious new forces unleashed by man.

"MEN AND nations are reacting variously, in fear and hope, frustration and boasting, apathy and frenzy," the statement said

It added that Christianity, amid such confusion, still sees life steadily and whole and responds neither with complacency nor panic, but with confidence and appropriate action.

"God continues to rule over history with judgment and with grace," it declared.

11 Parttime Postal Employes Are Arrested

COLUMBUS (AP)—FBI agents today announced arrest of 11 men here on charges they failed to list their police records on applications for parttime work in the Columbus Postoffice during the Christmas rush period.

Agents said more arrests are expected. A year ago, the FBI made 44 similar arrests here. Those arrested are charged with fraud against the U. S. government. Maximum penalty is five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Austrian Newspapers Chide Scoffers at U. S. Satellite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three newspapers in Vienna, Austria, today criticized those who scoff at the U. S. rocket program and the delay in launching an earth satellite.

They also assailed Austrian and other Western newspapers for their satirical comment on U. S. difficulties with the satellite.

The conservative People's party paper Das Kleine Volksblatt said "the feeling of depression which the fault finders are spreading makes these people unconscious allies of the Communists."

The conservative Neue Tagszeitung referred to "Moscow's perfect blackout technique" and demanded: "How many failures did the Soviets experience in tests before they got their Sputniks up?"

The independent Die Presse observed the Russians also had to overcome many difficulties before their rockets worked and added: "The real fact is that, with or without an earth satellite, the United States is without dispute the world's top ranking industrial power."

The foreign comments came after an American congressman, Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex) proposed that "we keep our mouths shut until we do something" in launching a space satellite.

"Then let the people look up into the sky and see for themselves," he said.

Thompson Damage Case Verdict Excessive By $7,500, Court Says in Opinion Friday

Fayette County Common Pleas Judge John P. Case, in an opinion filed Friday morning, said that a jury's $10,000 damage verdict for Miss Virginia A. Thompson in her $50,000 personal injury suit against Morton S. Titus was excessive in the amount of $7,500 and that he would grant a new trial of the case unless Miss Thompson consents to the lesser amount of damages.

The opinion followed a hearing on Titus' motion for a new trial on grounds that the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence.

The court's opinion was that while the verdict was "unreasonable" it was not by reason of "passion and prejudice" as Titus had alleged in his motion.

MISS THOMPSON has until 4 p. m. Dec. 12 to consent to the lesser amount of damages. The jury handed down its verdict Nov. 18 after a five - day trial of the case which was based on Miss Thompson's contention that Titus, a neighbor, fractured her nose in a "malicious assault" on the night of Nov. 26, 1956.

Here is the court's opinion in full:

"The court, coming now to consider the defendant's motion to vacate and set aside the verdict of the jury herein and for a new trial, and, upon due consideration of each and all of the grounds stated in said motion, the testimony and evidence adduced of record herein, and the arguments of counsel in support of and contrary to said motion, do find:

"That, upon due consideration of all of the evidence of record herein and the rules of law applicable to the measure of damages, as given by the court in its charge, it is clearly apparent that the jury misapprehended the rules of law applicable to the measure of damages

HEADED BY a civilian, the function of that upper echelon agency will be to define and develop future weapons which the individual services, preoccupied with today's troubles, may fail to discern or ignore. ARPA will be an operating outfit to develop new weapons and systems by itself independent of the individual services. It then will designate a service to operate the weapon or system it develops.

The interests of ARPA will be comprehensive, pointed to such things as space platforms or rockets reaching toward the moon.

A portion of the proposed $2 billion increase in the next defense budget may go to stepping up antisubmarine warfare projects and construction.

Another and much bigger portion of it would go into ballistic missile program. Part of that missile money is destined for augmentng the current Navy ballistic missile program.

Launching Rocket Explodes in Its Stand on Ground

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — America's first satellite launching vehicle exploded in its stand today. The Pentagon said in Washington another test probably could not be held for about 30 days.

There were no casualties.

A spokesman at Vanguard headquarters gave these details of the misfire:

"There was a loss of chamber pressure in the first stage after two seconds. The rocket fell back on the stand, toppled over toward the water to the east and exploded. The fire is now out."

This information was given out at 11:53 a.m. EST.

The American attempt to put a little 3¼-pound test sphere into a globe-circling course 300 miles up came more than a month after Russia had sent a 1,000-pound satellite aloft, and more than two months after the Soviets launched their Sputnik I.

Today's American test was a dismal failure.

There was a big flash of smoke and nothing left the ground. Apparently it blew up.

There was a tremendous blast of flame and then smoke shot up.

The launching attempt took place in bright sunshine, with only thinly flecked clouds in the sky.

Karpicak, a Purdue University graduate from Orlando, Fla., would fir only a signal from the Navy, however. The military would give the final "go."

At 11:27 a. m. (EST), 25 minutes short of launching time, a 10-minute hold was declared, deferring the firing time again.

A hoped for dawn launching failed to materialize after a series of "holds" interrupted the long and detailed countdown process which precedes any rocket firing.

The longest of these "holds" lasted from 2 a.m. to 5:30 a.m.

The final two hours before a launching are the most critical and frequently develop the most unexpected delays.

Russia Says U. S. Hides Red Rocket

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev charged tonight that part of the first Sputnik's carrier rocket fell on the United States last Sunday, but the Americans "do not want to give it back to us."

"We relied on them trusting in their decency, but they did not live up to our trust," he told a group of correspondents at a Finnish Embassy reception. "If an American Sputnik ever falls on Soviet territory, we will return it promptly to the United States."

Churches Call For Arms Cuts

War May Destroy All Civilization, Fear

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A national Christian gathering neared its close here today after calling for a harder push to achieve worldwide disarmament in the new age of rockets, nuclear weapons and satellites.

"We believe that the accelerating arms race which now grips our world may lead directly to a war which will destroy civilization," declared the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches.

"Efforts must be redoubled to realize the final goal of worldwide denominations in the framework of the United Nations."

The church leaders, representing most major Protestant and Orthodox denominations in the country, also urged the nation to rededicate itself to eternal principles of compassion and justice.

The assembly set forth specific recommendations on a host of issues but the general tone of the pronouncements was set against a background of timeless faith now shadowed by prodigious new forces unleashed by man.

"MEN AND nations are reacting variously, in fear and hope, frustration and boasting, apathy and frenzy," the statement said

It added that Christianity, amid such confusion, still sees life steadily and whole and responds neither with complacency nor panic, but with confidence and appropriate action.

"God continues to rule over history with judgment and with grace," it declared.

Austrian Newspapers Chide Scoffers at U. S. Satellite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three newspapers in Vienna, Austria, today criticized those who scoff at the U. S. rocket program and the delay in launching an earth satellite.

They also assailed Austrian and other Western newspapers for their satirical comment on U. S. difficulties with the satellite.

The conservative People's party paper Das Kleine Volksblatt said "the feeling of depression which the fault finders are spreading makes these people unconscious allies of the Communists."

The conservative Neue Tagszeitung referred to "Moscow's perfect blackout technique" and demanded: "How many failures did the Soviets experience in tests before they got their Sputniks up?"

The independent Die Presse observed the Russians also had to overcome many difficulties before their rockets worked and added: "The real fact is that, with or without an earth satellite, the United States is without dispute the world's top ranking industrial power."

The foreign comments came after an American congressman, Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex) proposed that "we keep our mouths shut until we do something" in launching a space satellite.

"Then let the people look up into the sky and see for themselves," he said.

11 Parttime Postal Employes Are Arrested

COLUMBUS (AP)—FBI agents today announced arrest of 11 men here on charges they failed to list their police records on applications for parttime work in the Columbus Postoffice during the Christmas rush period.

Agents said more arrests are expected. A year ago, the FBI made 44 similar arrests here. Those arrested are charged with fraud against the U. S. government. Maximum penalty is five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Thompson Damage Case Verdict Excessive By $7,500, Court Says in Opinion Friday

Fayette County Common Pleas Judge John P. Case, in an opinion filed Friday morning, said that a jury's $10,000 damage verdict for Miss Virginia A. Thompson in her $50,000 personal injury suit against Morton S. Titus was excessive in the amount of $7,500 and that he would grant a new trial of the case unless Miss Thompson consents to the lesser amount of damages.

The opinion followed a hearing on Titus' motion for a new trial on grounds that the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence.

The court's opinion was that while the verdict was "unreasonable" it was not by reason of "passion and prejudice" as Titus had alleged in his motion.

MISS THOMPSON has until 4 p. m. Dec. 12 to consent to the lesser amount of damages. The jury handed down its verdict Nov. 18 after a five - day trial of the case which was based on Miss Thompson's contention that Titus, a neighbor, fractured her nose in a "malicious assault" on the night of Nov. 26, 1956.

Here is the court's opinion in full:

"The court, coming now to consider the defendant's motion to vacate and set aside the verdict of the jury herein and for a new trial, and, upon due consideration of each and all of the grounds stated in said motion, the testimony and evidence adduced of record herein, and the arguments of counsel in support of and contrary to said motion, do find:

"That, upon due consideration of all of the evidence of record herein and the rules of law applicable to the measure of damages, as given by the court in its charge, it is clearly apparent that the jury misapprehended the rules of law applicable to the measure of damages

Science Awards Program Set Up

Teachers, Sponsors Work Out Details

Scientific projects entered in the third annual Science Awards Program (second here) will be displayed by Fayette County and Washington C. H. high school students here April 19, probably in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

The date for the exhibits was set at Thursday night's dinner meeting of science teachers in the four county and one city high school and district superintendents with representatives of the sponsors, Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., and National Cash Register Co., in the Hotel Washington banquet room.

Later in the month students whose exhibits place first, second and third in the county program will take their projects to Wilmington College where they will be exhibited with projects entered by students in Clinton, Clarmont and Butler counties in the district program.

H. S. (Bud) Stemple of Armco and William Hastings of NCR are co-chairmen of the county program. With them at Thursday's meeting were A. H. Hutton, general manager of Armco here, and Elmer Reed, a last year's chairman and an Armco industrial engineer, and Joseph Peters, general manager of NCR operations here. Armco and NCR sponsor the county program.

AFTER considering all phases of the program the teachers and sponsors concluded (1) that medals, instead of cash, should be awarded in the county program; (2) that two students may enter a project, but that they would be encouraged to enter individually; (3) that the scale of points for judging should stand unchanged; (4) that there should be "at least two" qualified judges for each category.

Entry blanks—325 of them—were given to the teachers to pass along to their students. The deadline for entering was set at Jan. 24.

The program is for both junior and senior high school students and they may enter projects in any one of four categories in the senior division: (1) engineering, (2) physics, (3) chemistry and (4) general science and one in the junior division: general science.

Winners in the four-county district program will receive college scholarships.

The program was started by Armco three years ago for the purpose of interesting young people in careers in science and as science teachers.

DURING the discussion, it was agreed that the competitive elements of the program should be based on individual achievements and not on schools or counties or cities. Exhibits, it was agreed, will bear no identification of either student or school.

Hutton and Peters explained the program and its background and objectives to the teachers and emphasized the growing importance of science in a modern world.

Stemple showed a motion picture of the district program meeting in Middletown last year and distributed a pamphlet explaining the need for scientists.

The teachers and superintendents evidenced enthusiasm for the program and assured the sponsors that they were anxious to cooperate to make it a success.

At the meeting were:

Jeffersonville—Principal Harry Phillips and Frank Creamer;

Bloomingburg—Mrs. G. H. Biddle;

Wayne—Norton Plymale;

Madison—Principal Robert Angus and Robert Hinchman.

Also there were Superintendent W. A. Smith of the Washington C. H. schools and W. J. Hilty, superintendent of the Fayette County schools.

Bank Robber Handed 15-Year Prison Term

COLUMBUS (AP)—Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood today sentenced Bill Evan Sparks of Whitehall to 15 years in a federal penitentiary for the $3,644 robbery of the Pickerington Bank Sept. 20.

The judge fined John S. Whiley, 52, Lancaster, $5,000 on one count of failure to file income tax returns. Whiley was placed on probation for five years on the other count.

He is survived by his wife; five sons, Clarence of Greenfield, John of Noblesville, Ind., Robert of Xenia, James in Michigan and Charles of Washington C. H.; three daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Oster of Washington C. H., Mrs. Mae Jones of Greenfield and Mrs. Myrtle Jarrell of Dearborn, Mich.; 14 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

He also leaves two brothers, Roy and Lee Grubb of Chillicothe.

Ike Pondering Trip To NATO Conference

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower is testing his strength these days, trying to decide whether he should attend the Dec. 16-18 meeting of the NATO Council in Paris.

The final decision, of course, will rest with the President's doctors. They will decide whether he is up to sitting in at that session after his stroke Nov. 25.

The doctors are waiting to see what Eisenhower's condition is the middle of next week.

Limaite Says He Fired Only Blank Bullet

LIMA (AP)—Ralph Forsythe, on trial for the alleged slaying of Charles Conner, told the court Thursday that he shot the "victim" with a blank cartridge.

The 40 - year - old defendant, charged with first degree murder, said Conner was dozing at the kitchen table in Forsythe's home Aug. 10 during a celebration of Conner's 37th birthday. Forsythe said he fired at Conner from close range to wake him up.

Forsythe said three witnesses to the shooting ran from the house and Forsythe said he told Conner: "My God, those people will think I killed you."

The defendant said Conner replied, "Yeah, you're right," and went back to sleep.

Forsythe testified that he ran after the men in an attempt to catch up with them and explain. He said he found one witness, Larue Arrington, who had stumbled over a garden hose, and tried to convince him the shooting was all in fun.

He said when he got back to the kitchen neither Conner nor the gun was there. Forsythe said he has not seen either since. Conner has never been found.

Defense attorney Ernest Navarre also began an attempt to prove that blood found in Forsythe's kitchen and in a truck belonging to the defendant was that of Forsythe and not Conner.

He called Dr. David Steiner of Lima who testified that Forsythe came to his home about 4 a. m. July 17 for treatment of a nose bleed. He said he sent Forsythe to Lima Memorial Hospital.

Indonesia Expelling

it was likely temporary camps would be set up for them in Australia and Singapore so they could be brought to Europe in stages.

The Dutch Cabinet met to discuss a draft plan for bringing the thousands of Holland. An official said the government intends to ask Indonesia for "a calm discussion so as to prepare for an orderly evacuation."

The first Dutch to get the boot were 28 employes of KLM, the Royal Dutch Airline, and their families. Justice Minister Gustaaf Adolf Maengkom told them to leave as soon as possible, leaving behind more than $1 million worth of KLM equipment.

Trade with the Netherlands will be stopped immediately, Sudibjo said, and a break in diplomatic relations "is a matter of time."

The government also announced that all Dutch-owned harbor facilities have been nationalized. Seizure of the billion-dollar Dutch business properties in Indonesia, the former Netherlands East Indies, appeared to be only a matter of time unless the Hague government turns over West New Guinea.

Numerous Dutch businesses have already been seized by Communist-led unions. Premier Djuanda and military officials said this violated government orders, and the government took over the union-seized firms "temporarily to maintain security."

Sudibjo would not say, however, that the government takeover was permanent nationalization and added, "This will be discussed later." He said nationalization so far extends only to Dutch-owned port facilities.

Building Scheduled On Freeway South Half

COLUMBUS (AP)—First construction on the Cincinnati to Columbus leg of the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway will begin next spring, the Ohio Department of Highways said today.

Charles M. Noble, Ohio's highway chief, said 12 miles in Franklin County will be built.

The remainder of the freeway between Columbus and the Cincinnati area will not be under construction until after July 1, 1959.

Extradition Hearing Set In Slaying

Paul Tague Jr., executive secretary to Gov. C. William O'Neill, set the hearing today on California's extradition request. Black, 31, is held in Van Wert on a charge of fatally shooting Thomas Benjamin Snow, who went to California with Black last year.

Snow's trussed body, wrapped in a bedspread, was found last April 7 at the Crestmore Cement Plant near Riverside. Officers said then the victim had been dead about three weeks. They said about $4,000 in bonds and a valuable camera were missing from Snow's possessions.

Sheriff Wilmer L. Clay, who arrested Black in Van Wert on a charge of murder, said he neither admitted nor denied the slaying. He said Black had been living with his grandparents and working as a laborer in Van Wert for several months. The victim's father, Floyd Snow of Lima, said his son went to California with Black and his family in October of 1956. Black and his wife Kathern, later were divorced. She said Black and Snow then roomed together.

Movie Producer Sued

Counterfeit Trail Found Old, Cold

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Secret Service says it is following a cold trail in investigating a counterfeit $50 bill found here. The bill is nearly 100 years old.

The service said it was called in when the bill was found in a safety deposit box rented by a woman who died here.

The bill was printed in 1862 and was called a "Spinner" bill after then treasurer of the United States F. E. Spinner.

The service added it wasn't unusual for the bill to have been counterfeited. About a third of the "Spinner" bills in circulation about that time were fakes.

Ohio Recorder Official Raps O'Neill's Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Recorder's Assn. is the only one of four groups of county officials meeting here to officially comment on Gov. C. William O'neill's veto of an act to increase fees for county offices.

Mrs. Miriam Yeazell, Clark County recorder and chairman of the association's Legislative Committee, reported Thursday on the governor's action.

She did not criticize the veto, but said: "We thought everything was under control,' and that "no one dreamed of a veto."

However, members of the associations admitted there was "considerable" unofficial criticism as they talked to each other outside the meeting rooms.

The newly formed past president's group of the recorders elected Earl R. Hogan, of Hamilton president and Mrs. Yeazell secretary.

William Marsh of Ross County was elected president of the County Auditors' Assn. Earl Lautenschlager of Wayne County was Hanson of Madison County, re-elected treasurer, and Donald R. name vice president Forrest Kinsey of Tuscarawas County, re-elected secretary.

Other associations meeting at the Deshler Hilton Hotel are the Ohio Clerk of Courts Assn. and the Ohio Sealers Assn. Both of these and the recorders hold elections today.

in reaching its verdict to the degree and extent that said verdict clearly shows error and injustice shocking to the senses and to the conscience of the court; and

"That, upon due consideration of all of the evidence of record herein, and after considering it in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, said damages so awarded by the verdict are so unreasonable, improbable and illogical to such a degree that the court is compelled to conclude and determine: —

"(A) That, after considering all of the evidence most favorably for plaintiff, it affords no reasonable foundation for the amount of damages assessed by the verdict; (b) that said verdict is manifestly against the weight of the evidence as to the amount thereof; and (c) that said verdict is excessive but not by reason of passion or prejudice;

"That, unless the plaintiff will remit from said verdict the said sum of $7,500.00, a new trial should be granted; but that, upon said remittitur being made, the said motion should be overruled;

"And that plaintiff should be given a reasonable period, not to exceed five days, in which to elect to consent to said remittitur and if plaintiff has not so elected and consented to said remittitur by on or before Dec. 12, at 4 p. m., then the court should forthwith make its entry and order in conformity herewith noting therein appropriate exceptions on behalf of said plaintiff."

Polish Militia Quells Anti-Police Rioting

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Steel helmeted militia reserves were called out to quell anti-police rioting in the western Polish town of Gorzow Monday, the Communist party organ Trybuna Ludu reports.

It said "hooligans, many of them drunk," pelted police and passersby with stones and bottles after a police car knocked down a woman cyclist.

The paper described the riot as a "hooligan excess."

THE LAUNCHING site itself is closed to newsmen, not because the Vanguard project is secret—it is not—but because an assortment of secret military missiles is in the area, awaiting testing along the 5,000-mile range from Cape Canaveral to Ascension Island.

The intent has been to hurl a small aluminum ball 300 miles or more into space and set it spinning around the world.

The sphere is only 6.4 inches in diameter and weighs only about 3¼ pounds. It has minute solar cells and a chemical battery powering radio transmitters designed to broadcast on 108 megacycles, so that the orbiting course may be followed by tracking stations around the world.

There are two more small spheres at the test center, ready for further tests. After they have been sent aloft and equipment and techniques have been proved out, larger satellites will be launched.

The Vanguard program is a part of the worldwide coordinated scientific survey underway during the International Geophysical Year. The efforts will lead inevitably to attempts to launch insects and animals and eventually man himself into space.

Earlier this week an attempt to launch the big Martin Co. Vanguard rocket was called off after only 50 minutes remained of an 11-hour countdown which, with its long series of "holds," lasted 18 hours. That was Wednesday.

One of the major technical difficulties was a stubborn, leaky disconnect valve to a liquid oxygen tank.

Even more important, brisk low-level winds and high speed jet streams in the upper altitudes presented any slowly rising, heavy and slender rocket such as the Vanguard with the danger of being broken in two.

South Pole Believed Based on Rocks

This information was obtained by the Rev. Daniel Linehan, a Boston college seismologist, and a Navy crew.

They set off three shots of high explosives in a 600-foot line near the ring of oil barrels that marks the South Pole. The explosions sent earthquake-like waves down to bounce off the rock and echo back to electronic recorders.

The finding of solid rock here supported the theory that at least the heart of Antarctica is not just a great sea covered with ages of ice and snow.

ing, Poage asserted: "Our own advertising has hurt us more than Russia's launching of both Sputniks. It's like the man who brags about his fine cattle, then brings his old broken-down cows into the show ring."

Similar criticism is being hear abroad.

"United States disgrace, Spacetnik doesn't start!"

That was the banner headline in Thursday's Vienna Welt Presse, an anti-Communist newspaper, reporting on the oft-postponed American project.

Several non-Communist papers here have taken to calling the American satellite the "Spacetnik," which in German means late Sputnik.

There also has been a lot of jesting about its small size. One paper cartooned President Eisenhower swinging his golf club at a ball labeled "U. S. Sputnik" as dozens of cameramen focused. The caption was: "Will It Fly?"

Other papers talked about "the inept publicity" attending the U. S. satellite effort, with the comment that the Russians made no announcement until their satellites were up for all the world to see.

Teachers, Sponsors Work Out Details

Scientific projects entered in the third annual Science Awards Program (second here) will be displayed by Fayette County and Washington C. H. high school students here April 19, probably in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

The date for the exhibits was set at Thursday night's dinner meeting of science teachers in the four county and one city high school and district superintendents with representatives of the sponsors, Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., and National Cash Register Co., in the Hotel Washington banquet room.

Later in the month students whose exhibits place first, second and third in the county program will take their projects to Wilmington College where they will be exhibited with projects entered by students in Clinton, Clarmont and Butler counties in the district program.

H. S. (Bud) Stemple of Armco and William Hastings of NCR are co-chairmen of the county program. With them at Thursday's meeting were A. H. Hutton, general manager of Armco here, and Elmer Reed, a last year's chairman and an Armco industrial engineer, and Joseph Peters, general manager of NCR operations here. Armco and NCR sponsor the county program.

AFTER considering all phases of the program the teachers and sponsors concluded (1) that medals, instead of cash, should be awarded in the county program; (2) that two students may enter a project, but that they would be encouraged to enter individually; (3) that the scale of points for judging should stand unchanged; (4) that there should be "at least two" qualified judges for each catagory.

Entry blanks—325 of them—were given to the teachers to pass along to their students. The deadline for entering was set at Jan. 24.

The program is for both junior and senior high school students and they may enter projects in any one of four categories in the senior division: (1) engineering, (2) physics, (3) chemistry and (4) general science and one in the junior division: general science.

Winners in the four-county district program will receive college scholarships.

The program was started by Armco three years ago for the purpose of interesting young people in careers in science and as science teachers.

DURING the discussion, it was agreed that the competitive elements of the program should be based on individual achievements and not on schools or counties or cities. Exhibits, it was agreed, will bear no identification of either student or school.

Hutton and Peters explained the program and its background and objectives to the teachers and emphasized the growing importance of science in a modern world.

Stemple showed a motion picture of the district program meeting in Middletown last year and distributed a pamphlet explaining the need for scientists.

The teachers and superintendents evidenced enthusiasm for the program and assured the sponsors that they were anxious to cooperate to make it a success.

At the meeting were:

Jeffersonville—Principal Harry Phillips and Frank Creamer;

Bloomingburg—Mrs. G. H. Biddle;

Wayne—Norton Plymale;

Madison—Principal Robert Angus and Robert Hinchman.

Also there were Superintendent W. A. Smith of the Washington C. H. schools and W. J. Hilty, superintendent of the Fayette County schools.

Bank Robber Handed 15-Year Prison Term

COLUMBUS (AP)—Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood today sentenced Bill Evan Sparks of Whitehall to 15 years in a federal penitentiary for the $3,644 robbery of the Pickerington Bank Sept. 20.

The judge fined John S. Whiley, 52, Lancaster, $5,000 on one count of failure to file income tax returns. Whiley was placed on probation for five years on the other count.

Ike Pondering Trip To NATO Conference

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower is testing his strength these days, trying to decide whether he should attend the Dec. 16-18 meeting of the NATO Council in Paris.

The final decision, of course, will rest with the President's doctors. They will decide whether he is up to sitting in at that session after his stroke Nov. 25.

The doctors are waiting to see what Eisenhower's condition is the middle of next week.

Limaite Says He Fired Only Blank Bullet

LIMA (AP)—Ralph Forsythe, on trial for the alleged slaying of Charles Conner, told the court Thursday that he shot the "victim" with a blank cartridge.

The 40 - year - old defendant, charged with first degree murder, said Conner was dozing at the kitchen table in Forsythe's home Aug. 10 during a celebration of Conner's 37th birthday. Forsythe said he fired at Conner from close range to wake him up.

Forsythe said three witnesses to the shooting ran from the house and Forsythe said he told Conner: "My God, those people will think I killed you."

The defendant said Conner replied, "Yeah, you're right," and went back to sleep.

Forsythe testified that he ran after the men in an attempt to catch up with them and explain. He said he found one witness, Larue Arrington, who had stumbled over a garden hose, and tried to convince him the shooting was all in fun.

He said when he got back to the kitchen neither Conner nor the gun was there. Forsythe said he has not seen either since. Conner has never been found.

Defense attorney Ernest Navarre also began an attempt to prove that blood found in Forsythe's kitchen and in a truck belonging to the defendant was that of Forsythe and not Conner.

He called Dr. David Steiner of Lima who testified that Forsythe came to his home about 4 a. m. July 17 for treatment of a nose bleed. He said he sent Forsythe to Lima Memorial Hospital.

Indonesia Expelling

it was likely temporary camps would be set up for them in Australia and Singapore so they could be brought to Europe in stages.

The Dutch Cabinet met to discuss a draft plan for bringing the thousands of Holland. An official said the government intends to ask Indonesia for "a calm discussion so as to prepare for an orderly evacuation."

The first Dutch to get the boot were 28 employes of KLM, the Royal Dutch Airline, and their families. Justice Minister Gustaaf Adolf Maengkom told them to leave as soon as possible, leaving behind more than $1 million worth of KLM equipment.

Trade with the Netherlands will be stopped immediately, Sudibjo said, and a break in diplomatic relations "is a matter of time."

The government also announced that all Dutch-owned harbor facilities have been nationalized. Seizure of the billion-dollar Dutch business properties in Indonesia, the former Netherlands East Indies, appeared to be only a matter of time unless the Hague government turns over West New Guinea.

Numerous Dutch businesses have already been seized by Communist-led unions. Premier Djuanda and military officials said this violated government orders, and the government took over the union-seized firms "temporarily to maintain security."

Sudibjo would not say, however, that the government takeover was permanent nationalization and added, "This will be discussed later." He said nationalization so far extends only to Dutch-owned port facilities.

Building Scheduled On Freeway South Half

COLUMBUS (AP)—First construction on the Cincinnati to Columbus leg of the Cincinnati to Conneaut Freeway will begin next spring, the Ohio Department of Highways said today.

Charles M. Noble, Ohio's highway chief, said 12 miles in Franklin County will be built.

The remainder of the freeway between Columbus and the Cincinnati area will not be under construction until after July 1, 1959.

Extradition Hearing Set In Slaying

Paul Tague Jr., executive secretary to Gov. C. William O'Neill, set the hearing today on California's extradition request. Black, 31, is held in Van Wert on a charge of fatally shooting Thomas Benjamin Snow, who went to California with Black last year.

Snow's trussed body, wrapped in a bedspread, was found last April 7 at the Crestmore Cement Plant near Riverside. Officers said then the victim had been dead about three weeks. They said about $4,000 in bonds and a valuable camera were missing from Snow's possessions.

Sheriff Wilmer L. Clay, who arrested Black in Van Wert on a charge of murder, said he neither admitted nor denied the slaying. He said Black had been living with his grandparents and working as a laborer in Van Wert for several months. The victim's father, Floyd Snow of Lima, said his son went to California with Black and his family in October of 1956. Black and his wife Kathern, later were divorced. She said Black and Snow then roomed together.

Movie Producer Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A divorce suit against movie producer Otto L. Preminger, 50, accuses him of treating his wife in a cruel and inhuman manner. Mrs. Mary Gardner Preminger, 39, asked alimony of $3,000 a month.

Counterfeit Trail Found Old, Cold

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Secret Service says it is following a cold trail in investigating a counterfeit $50 bill found here. The bill is nearly 100 years old.

The service said it was called in when the bill was found in a safety deposit box rented by a woman who died here.

The bill was printed in 1862 and was called a "Spinner" bill after then treasurer of the United States F. E. Spinner.

The service added it wasn't unusual for the bill to have been counterfeited. About a third of the "Spinner" bills in circulation about that time were fakes.

Ohio Recorder Official Raps O'Neill's Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Recorder's Assn. is the only one of four groups of county officials meeting here to officially comment on Gov. C. William O'neill's veto of an act to increase fees for county offices.

Mrs. Miriam Yeazell, Clark County recorder and chairman of the association's Legislative Committee, reported Thursday on the governor's action.

She did not criticize the veto, but said: "We thought everything was under control,' and that "no one dreamed of a veto."

However, members of the associations admitted there was "considerable" unofficial criticism as they talked to each other outside the meeting rooms.

The newly formed past president's group of the recorders elected Earl R. Hogan, of Hamilton president and Mrs. Yeazell secretary.

William Marsh of Ross County was elected president of the County Auditors' Assn. Earl Lautenschlager of Wayne County was Hanson of Madison County, reelected treasurer, and Donald R. name vice president Forrest Kinsey of Tuscarawas County, reelected secretary.

Other associations meeting at the Deshler Hilton Hotel are the Ohio Clerk of Courts Assn. and the Ohio Sealers Assn. Both of these and the recorders hold elections today.

in reaching its verdict to the degree and extent that said verdict clearly shows error and injustice shocking to the senses and to the conscience of the court; and

"That, upon due consideration of all of the evidence of record herein, and after considering it in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, said damages so awarded by the verdict are so unreasonable, improbable and illogical to such a degree that the court is compelled to conclude and determine: —

"(A) That, after considering all of the evidence most favorably for plaintiff, it affords no reasonable foundation for the amount of damages assessed by the verdict; (b) that said verdict is manifestly against the weight of the evidence as to the amount thereof; and (c) that said verdict is excessive but not by reason of passion or prejudice;

"That, in the opinion of the court, the damages so assessed by said verdict of the jury are excessive to the amount of $7,500.00;

"That, unless the plaintiff will remit from said verdict the said sum of $7,500.00, a new trial should be granted; but that, upon said remittitur being made, the said motion should be overruled;

"And that plaintiff should be given a reasonable period, not to exceed five days, in which to elect to consent to said remittitur and if plaintiff has not so elected and consented to said remittitur by on or before Dec. 12, at 4 p. m., then the court should forthwith make its entry and order in conformity herewith noting therein appropriate exceptions on behalf of said plaintiff."

Polish Militia Quells Anti-Police Rioting

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Steel helmeted militia reserves were called out to quell anti-police rioting in the western Polish town of Gorzow Monday, the Communist party organ Trybuna Ludu reports.

It said "hooligans, many of them drunk," pelted police and passersby with stones and bottles after a police car knocked down a woman cyclist.

The paper described the riot as a "hooligan excess."

The reasons for the delays were not announced but they could be guessed at. There were endless numbers of things that could go wrong at the last moment.

THE LAUNCHING site itself is closed to newsmen, not because the Vanguard project is secret—it is not—but because an assortment of secret military missiles is in the area, awaiting testing along the 5,000-mile range from Cape Canaveral to Ascension Island.

The intent has been to hurl a small aluminum ball 300 miles or more into space and set it spinning around the world.

The sphere is only 6.4 inches in diameter and weighs only about 3¼ pounds. It has minute solar cells and a chemical battery powering radio transmitters designed to broadcast on 108 megacycles, so that the orbiting course may be followed by tracking stations around the world.

There are two more small spheres at the test center, ready for further tests. After they have been sent aloft and equipment and techniques have been proved out, larger satellites will be launched.

The Vanguard program is a part of the worldwide coordinated scientific survey underway during the International Geophysical Year. The efforts will lead inevitably to attempts to launch insects and animals and eventually man himself into space.

Earlier this week an attempt to launch the big Martin Co. Vanguard rocket was called off after only 50 minutes remained of an 11-hour countdown which, with its long series of "holds," lasted 18 hours. That was Wednesday.

One of the major technical difficulties was a stubborn, leaky disconnect valve to a liquid oxygen tank.

Even more important, brisk low-level winds and high speed jet streams in the upper altitudes presented any slowly rising, heavy and slender rocket such as the Vanguard with the danger of being broken in two.

South Pole Believed Based on Rocks

This information was obtained by the Rev. Daniel Linehan, a Boston college seismologist, and a Navy crew.

They set off three shots of high explosives in a 600-foot line near the ring of oil barrels that marks the South Pole. The explosions sent earthquake-like waves down to bounce off the rock and echo back to electronic recorders.

The finding of solid rock here supported the theory that at least the heart of Antarctica is not just a great sea covered with ages of ice and snow.

ing, Poage asserted: "Our own advertising has hurt us more than Russia's launching of both Sputniks. It's like the man who brags about his fine cattle, then brings his old broken-down cows into the show ring."

Similar criticism is being hear abroad.

"United States disgrace, Spacetnik doesn't start!"

That was the banner headline in Thursday's Vienna Welt Presse, an anti-Communist newspaper, reporting on the oft-postponed American project.

Several non-Communist papers here have taken to calling the American satellite the "Spacetnik," which in German means late Sputnik.

There also has been a lot of jesting about its small size. One paper cartooned President Eisenhower swinging his golf club at a ball labeled "U. S. Sputnik" as dozens of cameramen focused. The caption was: "Will It Fly?"

Other papers talked about "the inept publicity" attending the U. S. satellite effort, with the comment that the Russians made no announcement until their satellites were up for all the world to see.

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Fairy wizards mistakenly christen the new born prince of Mitzenpoo three times with Strength but not at all with Courage and Wisdom. The cowardly prince grows up a disgrace to his father. He decides to seek Santa Claus and ask him to give him Courage and Wisdom.

CHAPTER THREE
RICHARD AND THE CIRCUS

It was late at night when the prince slipped out of his bed. When he had dressed he wrote a letter to the king.

"Dear Father," he wrote. "I know I make you angry because I am not very bright and I am a coward, people say. So I am going away and I won't come back until I can be a good prince, wise and brave, the way you want me to be."

When he had finished the letter he climbed out the window and dropped to the ground. It was a very big drop but the prince was so strong and agile it didn't bother him at all.

What did bother him was the dark. He was so afraid of it that when he had gone only a little way he stopped and crouched under a bush. There he waited, shivering with fright until daylight.

When at last the sun was up he set out again. But he was still very frightened because he had never before been beyond the palace grounds.

"How shall I ever find Santa Claus?" he wondered as he walked through the town. "I don't even know his address."

Presently he saw a shopkeeper sweeping the sidewalk in front of his shop.

"Pardon me," said Richard. "Can you tell me where Santa Claus lives?

The shopkeeper looked at him in astonishment. "Are you joking me?" he asked suspiciously.

"Oh, no," protested Richard. "I want to see Santa but I don't know what street he lives on."

"Well, son," said the shopkeeper, "you sound daft to me but all the same I will tell you one thing. Santa Claus doesn't live on any street around here that I know of."

"Where then?" persisted Richard.

"Well, somewhere up North, I guess. Around the North Pole, they say." Then the shopkeeper poked his broom at the boy. "Get going now. I'm tired of your nonsense."

Richard moved along until he came to a popcorn vendor.

"Pardon me," said Richard. "Can you tell me where the North Pole is?"

The vendor stared at him before he cried out, "Up North, you dolt. Where else?"

Richard went on until he came to a field where many men were struggling to raise a tent.

"Pardon me," said Richard to one of the workers. "Can you tell me where North is?"

"That way," said the worker, pointing in the direction of a fat man standing beside an enormous tent pole.

Richard went up to the fat man and asked, "Is that the North Pole?"

"Run along," snapped the man whose name was Mr. Maxim. "I've no time for jokes. This circus opens tonight and it will be hours yet before we can get this tent raised."

Richard thought perhaps Santa Claus was somewhere under the tent that the men were struggling to raise.

"May I look under the tent?" he asked politely.

"Oh, sure," said Mr. Maxim mockingly. "Just take this 100 foot pole, stick it under the canvas and raise it."

Richard picked up the pole as easily as though it had been a walking stick and pushed it under the canvas. He gave one heave and the whole tent was raised and in position.

Mr. Maxim and the other workers stared at Richard.

"Boy, you have a job with this circus!"

"Boy!" cried Mr. Maxim at last. "You have a job with this circus! We'll book you as the strongest boy in the world! We'll—"

But Richard was disappointed that Santa was not under the tent.

"I'd like to help you," he said, "but I am travelling."

"Well, boy! We travel!" cried Mr. Maxim. "A circus travels all over the world."

"I want to go North," said Richard.

"We go North" said Mr. Maxim. "We go everyplace!"

"Then," said Richard eagerly, "I'll be happy to stay with you until you get to the North Pole."

Intellectualism Said Nation's Current Need

CLEVELAND (AP)—"We need a wave of intellectualism; we're paying a sad price for McCarthyism," U. S. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) told the Council of Jewish Women here.

"For years we've been told that the Soviet Union couldn't possibly outstrip us," Humphrey said, "but the ancient dreams of the czars are being fulfilled by that rotund, baldheaded little guy, Khrushchev."

8 Bids Studied For Turnpike Cafes

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Prophet Co. of Detroit submitted the highest of eight bids received by the Ohio Turnpike Commission for operation of six Turnpike restaurants temporarily being run by the commission. The high bid was 16.25 per cent of gross sales for 10 years.

The commission has the right to pass up the high bid to make an award it believes to be in the best interest of the public.

Bidders include the Howard D. Johnson Co., 15.5 per cent in an eight or 10-year contract, and the Union News Co., 15 per cent for eight years or 15.25 for 10 years. The six restaurants at the eastern end of the pike have a gross business of $2 million a year.

BLUE BIRDS

After taking a short hike in the snow Wednesday, 22 Forget-Me-Not Blue Birds held their meeting in their "nest," 521 E. Temple St.

Plans were laid for making Christmas gifts for their families at the meeting next Wednesday and each girl painted her own club room stool.

During the remainder of the meeting, the girls made imitation snow flakes, horns of plenty, clowns, lanterns, ribbon chains, angels, gift-wrapped packages and blue birds with which they trimmed their Christmas tree.

This tree, entirely decorated with paper ornaments, will remain in the club room during the coming holiday season.

Answering the roll call were Pamela Beach, Melissa Brubaker, Margery Donohoe, Vicki Gomley, Lynn Johnson, Connie Jones, Reginia Joseph, Debra Kinzer, Dianne Kinzer, Kathy Marvin, Robyn Minzler, Mary Ann Moore, Judy Morris, Becky Mustine, Debby Naylor, Sue Neal, Elaine Palmer, Bonnie Snyder, Judy Ward, Sue Ware, Joyce Whiteside and Penny Wood.

Decide Now How To Cut Traffic Hazards

All Fayette County motor car drivers are now being warned repeatedly to take double precautions in meeting the hazards of winter traffic.

The offices of the Washington C. H. police department and the county sheriff's office are urging all drivers to give serious thought to conditions they are likely to face at any time during the next three or four months.

Experience is the best teacher, or so they say. People remember most easily things which they have learned by doing.

We'll go along with this general idea, with one very important exception. This exception is traffic safety. It's too risky to learn by trial and error how to walk and drive safely, especially at this time of the year when snow and ice add to the danger of traveling.

However, we can learn at least the fundamentals by taking advantage of the experience of others. We can take a tip from our police department who pass on scientific advice from drivers who have participated in exhaustive experiments, test-driving automobiles under severe winter driving conditions. Their advise: "Do not even attempt to drive a vehicle which is not properly equipped for added hazards of winter driving."

Such equipment would include defrosters in good working order, and new, live rubber blades in our windshield wipers for rain and snow storms. It also includes having a set of reinforced tire chains in the trunk and willingness to use them when really needed— even though we may not like the minor chore of putting them on.

Hundreds of tests conducted by the National Safety Council's Committee on winter driving hazards proved that reinforced tire chains reduce braking distances on snow or ice by 50 per cent, and increase a car's uphill or starting traction — pulling power— about 409 per cent on ice and 313 per cent on packed snow. Snow tires, too, give some aid for milder conditions, reducing braking distance about 12 per cent and aiding traction by 28 per cent on ice and 51 per cent on loosely packed snow. Drivers should know and consider these facts carefully and not be over confident.

Smart drivers will not wait until their own experience, possibly a tragic one, proves to them personally they should have properly equipped their cars for safe winter driving.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only thing unusual about President Eisenhower's meetings this week with 31 congressional leaders was that he was able to hold the meetings at all so soon after his mild stroke.

Otherwise the result could have been predicted: No special sweetness and light on Congress in 1958.

The lawmakers came away in that now classic frame of mind called a "mixed reaction." The Democrats more or less had fault to find. The Republicans more or less approved.

Eisenhower talked with Democrats and Republicans one day about the defense and foreign programs for 1958, the next day with Republicans alone about the domestic programs.

His domestic plans appear to have been sketchy and far from complete. Democrats complained his plans for defense and strengthening relations with the allies didn't show a sense of urgency.

One thing seems certain: Russian success in missiles and science have so upset Congress that the members of both parties will give the President the money he needs for modern weapons, particularly missiles.

That the Democrats were fairly mild in their criticism may be due possible because of the Russian scare It's had a sobering effect on politicians. But that may be only temporary.

This seems to be the picture which emerged during the two days of sessions at the White House:

Because Eisenhower will ask increased spending for defense and foreign aid, it is almost certain there will be no income tax cut in 1958.

Further, Congress will almost certainly—because of the need for revenue — continue the present rates of corporation and excise (sales) taxes which otherwise would have gone down automatically by the end of next June.

Eisenhower hopes—but is not positive he can do it—to keep the budget balanced, despite higher defense costs, and to avoid deficit spending or even an income tax increase.

He's going to ask about half a billion more for foreign aid.

That's going to mean an awful tight squeeze unless Congress can find some places where it can cut other kinds of government spending. It might, for instance, try to reduce defense spending in areas other than missiles.

Trying to figure that one out is enough in itself to keep congressional tongues wagging through 1958. But the administration seems to have ideas it can economize by cutting spending also on domestic programs.

Next year is an election year for most members of Congress. Domestic programs affect the people back home Cuts bring squawks. Squawks in an election year have a dangerous sound for politicians.

Ohio State Enrollment Now Totals 22,615

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fall quarter enrollment at Ohio State University totals 22,615, the registrar's office reports.

The enrollment represents a slight increase over the fall quarter of 1956 when 22,470 were registered. Enrollment for the 1955 fall quarter was 21,744.

Included in the official enrollment are 256 students at the branch campuses—174 at Marion and 82 at Newark.

Louisiana's live oaks, though not thus emancipated, have a society of their own. To become a member, each tree must be at least 100 years old. Dues are 25 acorns a year, to be planted where new trees are needed most. President of the Society of Live Oaks is the Locke Breaux Oak near Hahnville.

12-YEAR "SENTENCE" — Jockey Bobby Martin (above) has been set down by the Maryland State Racing commission for 12 years on charges of soliciting bets. Martin, 29, got a 10-year jolt in 1951, but was reinstated in 1955. (International)

6 Kinds of Grocery Shoppers

By Ed Creagh
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal to Queen Elizabeth II of England and King Mohammed V, of Morocco:

Your majesties have shown an interest, during your visits to these shores, in the American supermarket. Well you might. The supermarket, in its awesome majesty, is an ever-growing symbol of American abundance.

What your majesties may have missed, though, in your marveling at the topless heaps of goodies, detergents, stockings, mops and phonograph records, is perhaps the most remarkable thing of all: The supermarket customers.

He (and especially she) comes in many varieties, but the following categories pretty well cover the field:

1. Big Bertha. She's the same al who drives in front of you 'n the highway—right down the iddle of the road. She drives er shopping cart as if it were a Sherman tank. She will either run you down or leave her cart smack in the aisle where you're bound to trip over it.

2. Dottie Dither. She's in a frantic hurry to get out with a tube of toothpaste which she won't need until next week. So she sneaks ahead of you in the checkout line and then discovers she needs cigarettes, clothespins, anchovies and an assortment of items so offbeat the manager has to go downstairs and open the safe to find them.

3. Helpless Harry. He's feeling put-upon because his wife stuck him with the shopping detail. You can always spot him by the list he carries. It has such jottings as "B & S R's," which he is supposed to interpret as "brown-'n'-serve rolls," and "4 D. F.?," by which his wife means he is to get four cans of dog food if, but only if, there is a sale on it.

4. Gourmet George. He may have a list too, but he pays small attention to it. He's gaily loading up with hummingbird tongues, fried agave worms and all manner of other delicacies which he doesn't know how to prepare and wouldn't eat if he could.

5. Penniless Pete, or Mrs. Pete. They heap their shopping buggies with grub enough to hold a clambake and then discover they haven't a cent in their pockets. So the manager, who never saw them before, is supposed to cash a crumpled check, signed with a name that looks like "Nikita S. Khrushchev," and if he says no they take their business elsewhere.

6. Fertile Flossie. She makes shopping a family affair, meaning that the six older children run wild while baby sits in the shopping cart happily knocking bottles off the shelves. The older children clamor for soft drinks, beat each other on the head and steal candy out of your shopping cart.

Diet and Health

Don't Try To Treat Your Own Ailments

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When something is wrong with your car, you take it to a competent mechanic. When your house is burning, you call the fireman. In both instances, you want trained experts to remedy the trouble.

But when something goes wrong with your health, far too many of you resort to self-treatment. Often this can be a fatal practice.

Currently the most obvious evidence of this is in the widespread use of tranquilizers.

The Journal of the American Medical Association flatly warns: "The indiscriminate use of such drugs is against the public interest."

Last year the New York City Health Department reported 76 cases of poisoning, including two fatalities, associated with undisclosed tranquilizing drugs.

Nightmares, headaches, muscle cramps, dizziness, shortness of breath and chilling sensations are among the minor discomforts produced by some tranquilizers injudiciously used.

More serious effects include jaundice, liver damage and mental depression accompanied by suicidal tendencies.

There has even been one reported case of a bleeding peptic ulcer due to a specific tranquilizer.

I don't want you to think all tranquilizers will produce these symptoms. They won't. But in many cases, some minor ailment you might have can be aggravated by one or another of these tranquilizing drugs used indiscriminately. Your doctor is the only one who can say whether a certain drug is safe for you to use.

There's another reason for not taking tranquilizers indiscriminately.

Many person can take a tranquilizer, now and then with very beneficial effects, but others eventually become dissatisfied with only one. They soon may be taking more than the prescribed dosage. In some cases, doctors have found, the patients become dependent upon a tranquilizer and have difficulty getting along without it.

Other medical reports show that some persons become addicts. Some even experience rather drastic withdrawal symptoms when the drug is withheld from them.

Prescribing medicine for your welfare, you can readily see, is a job for an expert. So consult your doctor before, during and after you use tranquilizers.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. B.: I have epilepsy and take sodium dilantin daily. Could this cause me to become a drug addict.

Answer: There is no likelihood of your becoming a drug addict from this preparation, if properly used. It would be advisable for you to continue taking the drug, but only as long as your physician prescribes it.

In Memory of Caruso

By George Sokolsky

My friend, Francis Robinson, who helps to run the Metropolitan Opera House, has produced a book on Enrico Caruso, the greatest tenor that ever lived so far as we know.

Of course, we do not know much about tenors who sing in bathrooms or in the barberships. The record only gives us those whose names are printed on programs and of those Caruso has known no peer.

And that is the most astonishing fact about human beings. Why, for instance, was there only one Paganini, only one Kreisler, only one Liszt, only one Chaliapin, and so it goes in all fields. I can recall Richard Mansfield and Southern and Marlowe in Shakespeare were outstanding, just as no whispering new school actress can equal Alla Nazimova in Ibsen.

In a word, genius appears here and there, in the most unexplainable places, without regard to country or even the character of the genius. Who could have believed that such a money-grabbing father as Mozart's could have produced the greatest composer of all time?

So we return to Enrico Caruso, a very simple Italian, born in Naples. He was the 18th of 21 children. His father was not a musician. Caruso's father was a mechanic working in a cottenseed oil and cream of tartar factory.

Does it really make much difference? Despite the geneticists who are able to do so much with horses and bulls, nobody has yet discovered how to make a father's son exactly like the father, as good or as bad. There are those who believe that blood will tell. But what will it tell?

Since childhood, Caruso sang. He sang Masses in the church choir. He sang on the street. He sang because he was endowed by the mystical powers that create an extraordinary beauty among homely parents or, as in the instance of Benjamin Franklin, produced a natural philosopher and diplomat where little more than an artisan was to have been expected.

Francis Robinson tells:

"On the feast of Corpus Christi, 1888, Anna Caruso lay seriously ill. Enrico did not want to sing, but his mother insisted. With a heavy heart he trudged to the church of San Severino. It was one of only two performances in his life he was unable to finish. In the middle of the service the weeping neighbors came to tell him his mother was gone.

" 'Out of regard for her,' he said, 'I had resigned myself to pursuing my work as a mechanic's apprentice. After her death, though my heart was filled with sadness over my irreparable loss, I could see no reason for continuing this sacrifice. I left the office never to return and decided to dedicate all to music.' "

Otherwise, Enrico Caruso might have ended up as a manufacturer of soda fountain equipment, singing only to his wife and children on a Sunday after a heavy dinner of pasta. Instead, as though a Jacob's ladder had been placed upon the earth for Caruso to climb, step by step, a guardian angel in the form of a music teacher, a major in the army, a baron, was ready to assist the young man to rise. There are always men to help genius.

I have one advantage over Francis Robinson who spends every day in the Met; I heard Caruso. I heard Caruso and Farrar, and that nobody can ever forget. It lives in the memory like a monumental experience, like the first view of Peking or of the Great Wall of China, or the night of the Russian revolution, or the Grand Canyon.

In those days, the Metropolitan was a temple to which only those who loved music went. True, on opening night, society turned out, but it was a well - behaved, well - mannered society, nothing like during the past few years when anyone with taste shunned a first night as he would any other horror.

It was customary to have "Aida" on the opening night and Caruso usually sang. There were many ways to hear opera. One was to sell librettos; another was to carry a spear.

There were many ways to live without money in those days if only one was willing to work. And so I heard Caruso and often saw him and once heard him sing impromptu in the bar of the Knickerbocker Hotel for some charity he chose at the moment to favor.

Defiance College To Offer Plan To Create Teachers

DEFINANCE (AP) — Defiance College will propose a plan to correct the shortage of high school science and mathematics teachers at a meeting here Dec. 30 of some 200 educators.

McCann said the core of the Defiance plan is to tap the large pool of potential teachers to be found in church-related colleges.

"Young persons who attend church-related colleges still think of teaching as the first and noblest profession," McCann said.

A CONVIVIAL SOUL left the convention at 3:30 A. M. and was deposited on his doorstep by a considerate taxicab driver at 3:58. He had almost made it to his room when his wife's prized cuckoo clock sounded four times. The husband promptly cuckooed four more times, called out "Heigh ho, it's off to work I go!" — and hastily exited from the house.

That night his wife reported, "I've decided to get rid of that cuckoo clock. Last night it cuckooed four times, tripped over a chair, mumbled 'Nuts!' then cuckooed four times more!"

The late Arturo Toscanini once played host to Yehudi Menuhin. The latter was in the middle of a violin sonata when a phone in the hall began to ring. The maestro motioned to Menuhin to continue playing, picked up a pair of scissors, cut the phone wire in two, then leaned back happily once more to listen to the music.

Decide Now How To Cut Traffic Hazards

All Fayette County motor car drivers are now being warned repeatedly to take double precautions in meeting the hazards of winter traffic.

The offices of the Washington C. H. police department and the county sheriff's office are urging all drivers to give serious thought to conditions they are likely to face at any time during the next three or four months.

Experience is the best teacher, or so they say. People remember most easily things which they have learned by doing.

We'll go along with this general idea, with one very important exception. This exception is traffic safety. It's too risky to learn by trial and error how to walk and drive safely, especially at this time of the year when snow and ice add to the danger of traveling.

However, we can learn at least the fundamentals by taking advantage of the experience of others. We can take a tip from our police department who pass on scientific advice from drivers who have participated in exhaustive experiments, test-driving automobiles under severe winter driving conditions. Their advise: "Do not even attempt to drive a vehicle which is not properly equipped for added hazards of winter driving."

Such equipment would include defrosters in good working order, and new, live rubber blades in our windshield wipers for rain and snow storms. It also includes having a set of reinforced tire chains in the trunk and willingness to use them when really needed— even though we may not like the minor chore of putting them on.

Hundreds of tests conducted by the National Safety Council's Committee on winter driving hazards proved that reinforced tire chains reduce braking distances on snow or ice by 50 per cent, and increase a car's uphill or starting traction — pulling power— about 409 per cent on ice and 313 per cent on packed snow. Snow tires, too, give some aid for milder conditions, reducing braking distance about 12 per cent and aiding traction by 28 per cent on ice and 51 per cent on loosely packed snow. Drivers should know and consider these facts carefully and not be over confident.

Smart drivers will not wait until their own experience, possibly a tragic one, proves to them personally they should have properly equipped their cars for safe winter driving.

6 Kinds of Grocery Shoppers

By Ed Creagh

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal to Queen Elizabeth II of England and King Mohammed V. of Morocco:

Your majesties have shown an interest, during your visits to these shores, in the American supermarket. Well you might. The supermarket, in its awesome majesty, is an ever-growing symbol of American abundance.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only thing unusual about President Eisenhower's meetings this week with 31 congressional leaders was that he was able to hold the meetings at all so soon after his mild stroke.

Otherwise the result could have been predicted: No special sweetness and light on Congress in 1958.

The lawmakers came away in that now classic frame of mind called a "mixed reaction." The Democrats more or less had fault to find. The Republicans more or less approved.

Eisenhower talked with Democrats, and Republicans one day about the defense and foreign programs for 1958, the next day with Republicans alone about the domestic programs.

His domestic plans appear to have been sketchy and far from complete. Democrats complained his plans for defense and strengthening relations with the allies didn't show a sense of urgency.

One thing seems certain: Russian success in missiles and science have so upset Congress that the members of both parties will give the President the money he needs for modern weapons, particularly missiles.

That the Democrats were fairly mild in their criticism may be due possible because of the Russian scare. It's had a sobering effect on politicians. But that may be only temporary.

Because Eisenhower will ask increased spending for defense and foreign aid, it is almost certain there will be no income tax cut in 1958.

Further, Congress will almost certainly—because of the need for revenue — continue the present rates of corporation and excise (sales) taxes which otherwise would have gone down automatically by the end of next June.

Eisenhower hopes—but is not positive he can do it—to keep the budget balanced, despite higher defense costs, and to avoid deficit spending or even an income tax increase.

He's going to ask about half a billion more for foreign aid.

That's going to mean an awful tight squeeze unless Congress can find some places where it can cut other kinds of government spending. It might, for instance, try to reduce defense spending in areas other than missiles.

Trying to figure that one out is enough in itself to keep congressional tongues wagging through 1958. But the administration seems to have ideas it can economize by cutting spending also on domestic programs.

Next year is an election year for most members of Congress. Domestic programs affect the people back home. Cuts bring squawks. Squawks in an election year have a dangerous sound for politicians.

And Democrats already have indicated they'll fight cuts in domestic programs.

12-YEAR "SENTENCE" — Jockey Bobby Martin (above) has been set down by the Maryland State Racing commission for 12 years on charges of soliciting bets. Martin, 29, got a 10-year jolt in 1951, but was reinstated in 1955. (International)

Ohio State Enrollment Now Totals 22,615

COLUMBUS (AP)—Fall quarter enrollment at Ohio State University totals 22,615, the registrar's office reports.

The enrollment represents a slight increase over the fall quarter of 1956 when 22,470 were registered. Enrollment for the 1955 fall quarter was 21,744.

Louisiana's live oaks, though not thus emancipated, have a society of their own. To become a member, each tree must be at least 100 years old. Dues are 25 acorns a year, to be planted where new trees are needed most. President of the Society of Live Oaks is the Locke Breaux Oak near Hahnville.

Muskingum River Dam Program OKd

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Natural Resources Commission has recommended that the state accept an Army engineers' proposal for restoration of the 11 dams on the Muskingum River.

Under the proposal, the federal government would pay $235,000 for either breaching or repairing the dams with the state paying the balance to complete restoration.

Under the recommendation of the commission, however, the state would accept this proposal "under protest." This would mean that under the state's acceptance, it would protest the inadequacy of the available funds, hoping that Congress would make available the necessary additional funds to complete restoration.

Danish Reactor Delayed

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Work on Denmark's first atomic reactor has been "seriously delayed" by leaks in the reactor-tank, a spokesman for the Danish Atomic Energy Commission says.

Regardless of class, creed, or rank, we serve with the same efficiency.

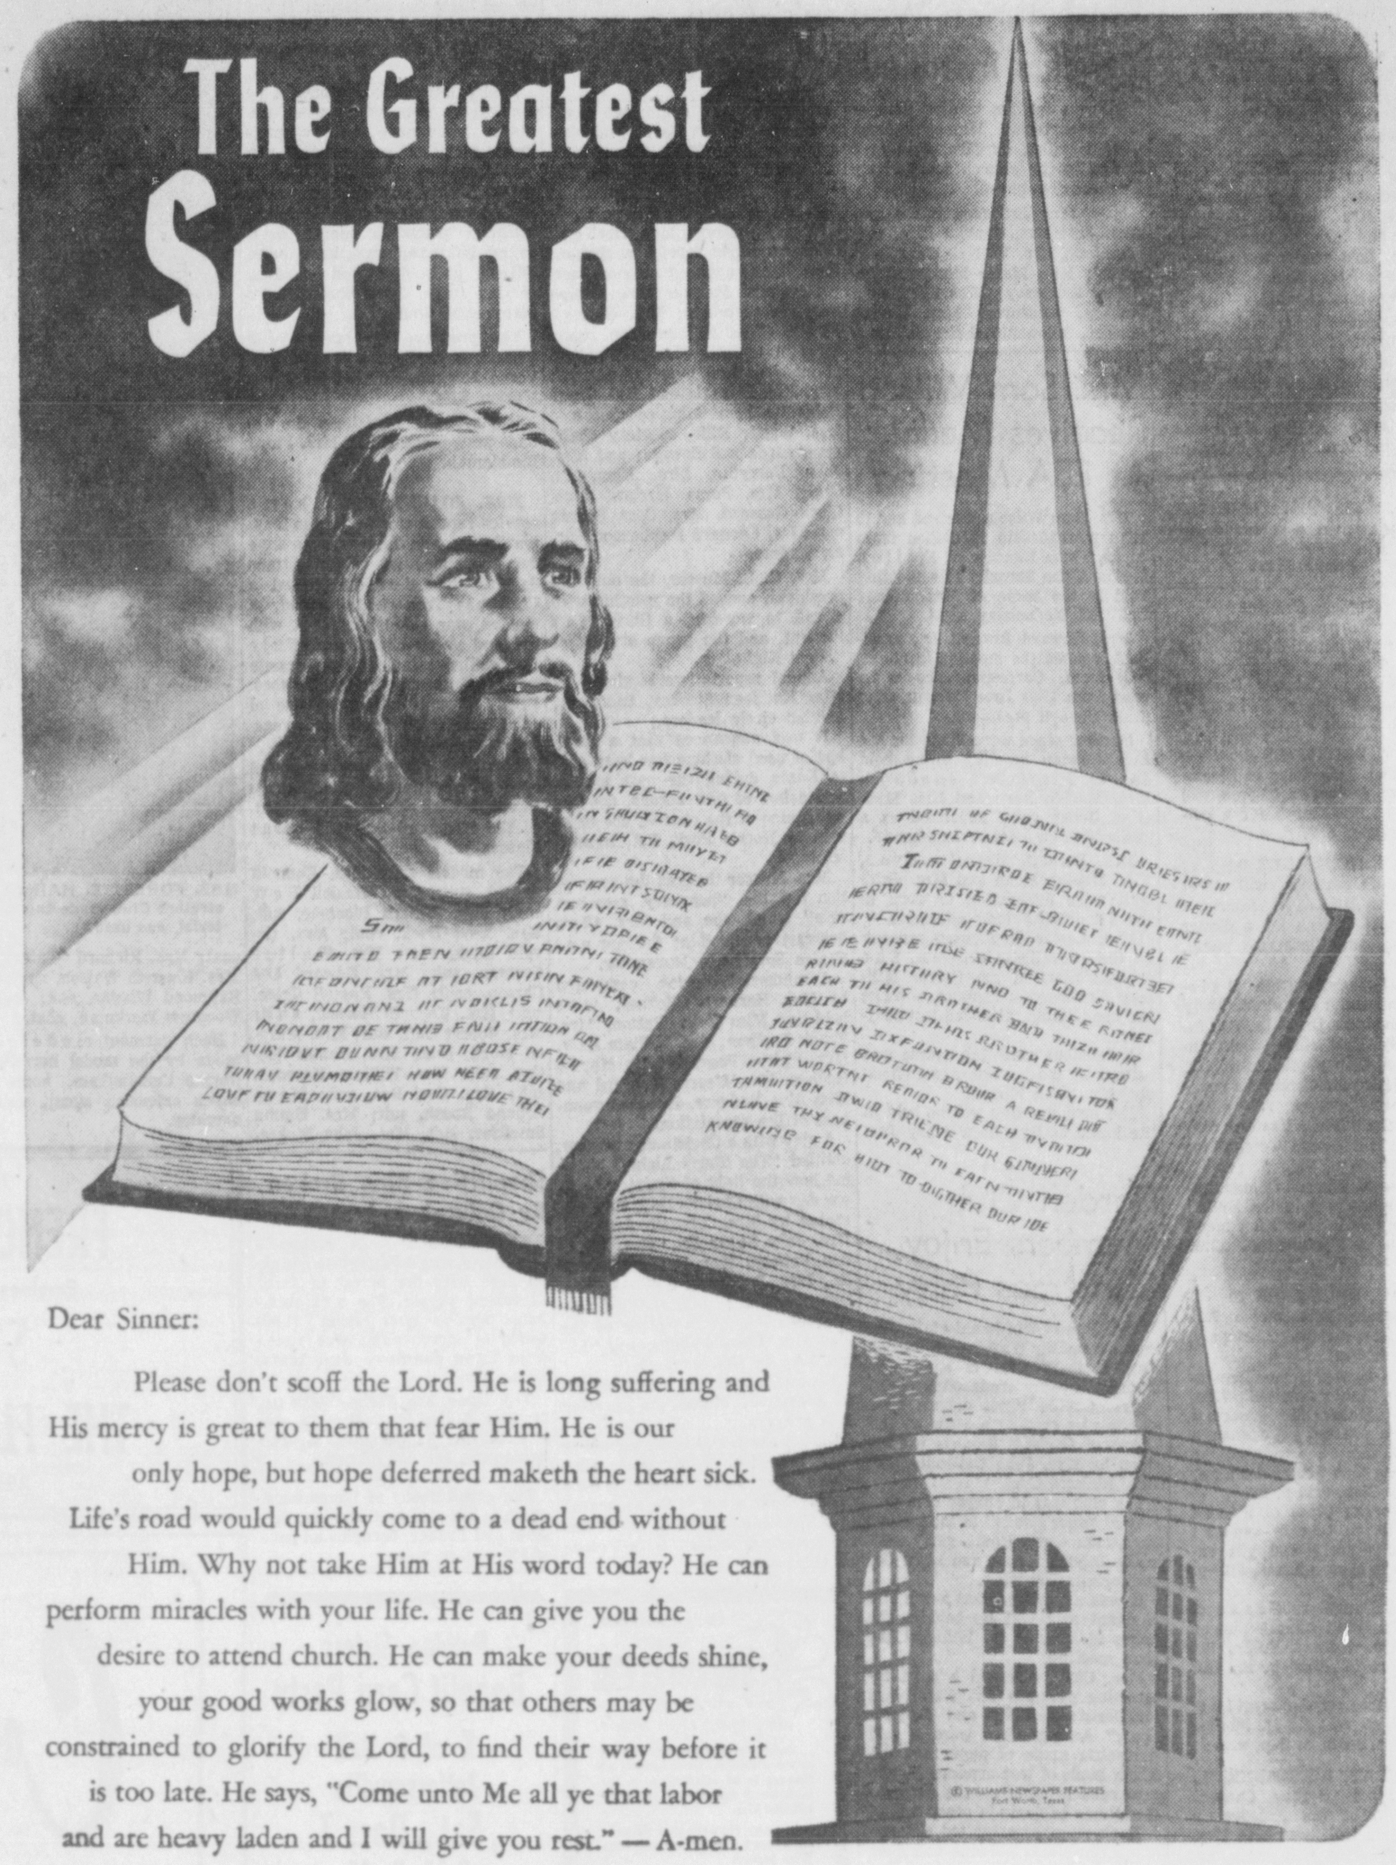
You Need The Church-The Church Needs You



Dear Sinner:

Please don't scoff the Lord. He is long suffering and His mercy is great to them that fear Him. He is our only hope, but hope deferred maketh the heart sick. Life's road would quickly come to a dead end without Him. Why not take Him at His word today? He can perform miracles with your life. He can give you the desire to attend church. He can make your deeds shine, your good works glow, so that others may be constrained to glorify the Lord, to find their way before it is too late. He says, "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." — A-men.

Muskingum River Dam Program OKd

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Natural Resources Commission has recommended that the state accept an Army engineers' proposal for restoration of the 11 dams on the Muskingum River.

Under the proposal, the federal government would pay $235,000 for either breaching or repairing the dams with the state paying the balance to complete restoration.

Under the recommendation of the commission, however, the state would accept this proposal "under protest." This would mean that under the state's acceptance, it would protest the inadequacy of the available funds, hoping that Congress would make available the necessary additional funds to complete restoration.

Danish Reactor Delayed

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Work on Denmark's first atomic reactor has been "seriously delayed" by leaks in the reactor-tank, a spokesman for the Danish Atomic Energy Commission says.

Regardless of class, creed, or rank, we serve with the same efficiency.

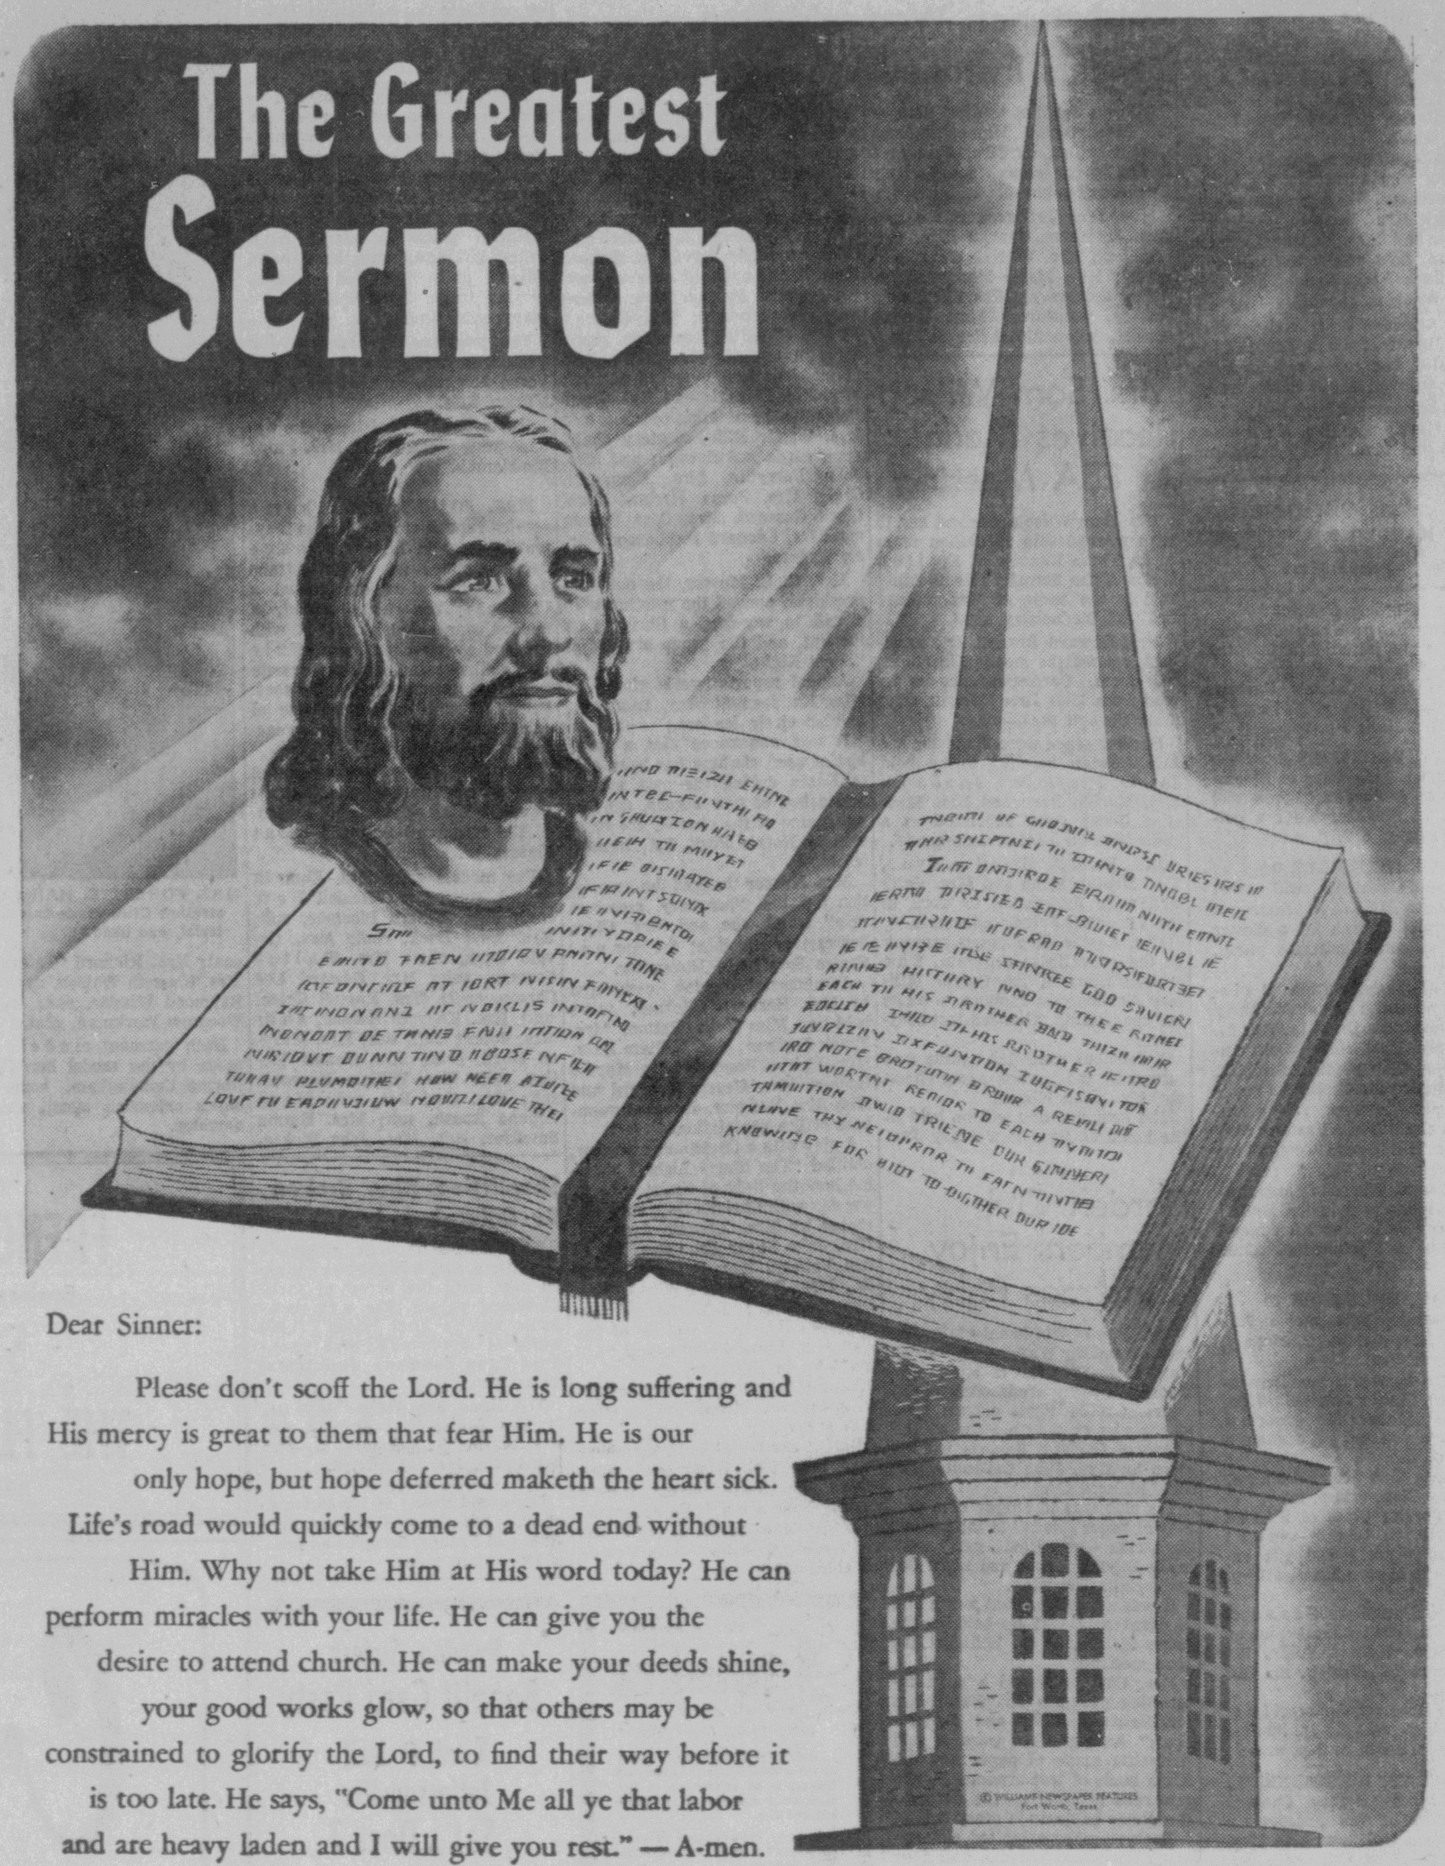
You Need The Church-The Church Needs You



Dear Sinner:

Please don't scoff the Lord. He is long suffering and His mercy is great to them that fear Him. He is our only hope, but hope deferred maketh the heart sick. Life's road would quickly come to a dead end without Him. Why not take Him at His word today? He can perform miracles with your life. He can give you the desire to attend church. He can make your deeds shine, your good works glow, so that others may be constrained to glorify the Lord, to find their way before it is too late. He says, "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." — A-men.

Gamma CCL Has Christmas Party

Mrs. Rollo Marchant was hostess to 27 members of Gamma Circle CCL at their annual Christmas party Wednesday night.

Mrs. Fred Domenico opened with appropriate devotions. A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Jack White, president. A letter of thanks was read from the Council for Retarded Children, after which the meeting was adjourned and the remainder of the evening was spent playing bridge and canasta. High scores were held by Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, bridge, and Mrs. Eugene Ladrach, canasta. Low scores were held by Mrs. Jack Flax, bridge, and Mrs. Irwin Reeves, canasta.

The guests were served delicious refreshments from a beautifully appointed tea table and later the group enjoyed a gift exchange.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. O. Garringer, Mrs. Kenneth Miller and Mrs. Harry Townsend.

Presbyterian Women's Assn. Officers Installed Wednesday

Officers for the coming year of the Presbyterian Women's Assn. were installed by Mrs. Orman Dewey in the church sanctuary Wednesday night.

Miss Jane Jefferson is the new president; Mrs. Charles Hire, vice president, Mrs. W. Neil Hand, secretary; Miss Marie Marchant, assistant secretary; Miss Kathleen Stookey, treasurer; Mrs. Luke Musser, fellowship chairman; Mrs. Dewey, program committee chairman; Mrs. Robert Harper, missionary education; Mrs. Hilbert Meyer, social education and action; Mrs. Dwight Roads Jr., spiritual life and stewardship; Mrs. C. S. Kelley, literature; Mrs. Herbert Clickner, world service chairman; Mrs. Hand, national missions secretary; Mrs. Maryon Mark, foreign missions secretary; Mrs. George Finley, Christian education secretary; Mrs. Peter Smeltzer, national missions and overseas sewing; Mrs. Roy Plymale and Mrs. Jesse Robinette, nominating committee; Mrs. Walter Ellis, courtesy chairman, cards and flowers; and Mrs. John Forsythe, Mrs. Kenneth Craig, Mrs. Perse Harlow, Mrs. Clark Gossard, Mrs. Cora Fennig and Mrs. Leonard Stephenson, circle leaders.

Mrs. C. L. Musser, the outgoing president, opened the meeting with a call to worship, a Christmas thought, and the group singing of "Silent Night."

Annual reports were given by Miss Kathleen Stookey, treasurer, and all circle leaders.

It was announced that a large box of used clothing has been sent to Korea during the past month, and a box of new aprons, donated by women of the church, are to be sent to Morris Fork, Ky., immediately.

Mrs. Musser thanked the association for the "honorary membership" which she and Mrs. Clara Schwart received at the annual Praise Service in November.

A memorial service, conducted by Mrs. Herbert Clickner, was held for Miss Zella Patton, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Mrs. William Barr, Mrs. Faithe Pearce, Miss Marie Hughes, Mrs. George Gossard and Miss Alva Rodgers, deceased members of the association.

A play with a Christmas message, entitled "The Star's Light," showing how the light of the star binds our day with Christ's Day, was presented by Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, Mrs. John Sagar Sr., Mrs. Leontine Vallery, Mrs. Omar Schwart, Jr., Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. Duane Baker and Mrs. George Robinson Jr. At the close of the play Mrs. Lloyd Fennig sang "Little Town of Bethlehem."

Miss Jefferson, the newly installed president, closed the meeting with prayer.

During the social hour, members were invited to Westminster Hall where light refreshments were served from a tea table decorated in a Christmas motif. Circle V was the hostess with Mrs. Cora Fennig as chairman.

Mrs. Sam Wilson Receives Medal At ESA Meeting

Mrs. Sam Wilson received her 10 year membership medallion from Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Robert Caldwell Wednesday night.

Mrs. Howard Burnett Jr., president, opened the meeting in ritualistic form. Correspondence was read from Miss June Morgan, Ohio State Council president.

Further plans were made for the ESA Council meeting to be held Jan. 19. Mrs. Robert Goodson, Mrs. Marlyn Reno and Miss Madeline Denen were appointed as a committee on local arrangements.

Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Goodson, Mrs. Dudley Moon and Mrs. Caldwell were designated to work in the TB office Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lester Stephenson presented the educational program. She showed films of the Culver Military Academy in Indiana, which her son, Phillip, attended last summer.

A delicious sandwich course was served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Sam Wilson.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Sam Athey Jan. 8.

Garden Club Members Enjoy Christmas Party

Mrs. Robert Woods entertained 10 members of the Washington Garden Club at its regular meeting and Christmas party Wednesday night.

Mrs. Orville Hurtt opened the meeting by reading a story on the "Birth of Christ." Reports were given by Mrs. John Callender and Mrs. Richard Curl.

The club was in charge of a display of "door swags" at the annual Christmas - at - Home party held in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium Thursday.

It was announced that a white elephant sale will be held in the home of Mrs. T. N. Willis at the next meeting.

Mrs. Curl presented a most interesting program on "New Ideas for Christmas Gifts and Decorations." Among these were a gold poinsettia made of paper and different kinds of tree ornaments. She also read a paper on the different Christmas customs in other lands.

Each member exhibited a homemade Christmas corsage and door swags. A gift exchange was enjoyed and Christmas carols were sung by the group.

Tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Woods, assisted by Mrs. Ward Dean.

Susan B. Anthony, crusader for woman's rights, was fined a hundred dollars for trying to vote in 1872. She refused to pay it, and the men finally gave up and didn't press the charge.

200 At 'Christmas-at-Home' Party

The annual Christmas-at-Home Party sponsored by the Fayette County Home Demonstration Council and Fayette County Garden clubs was held in the Dayton Power and Light Co. auditorium Thursday afternoon with approximately 200 county and city women attending.

Tables were placed around the auditorium upon which were displayed home-made Christmas items such as centerpieces, pictures, candies, ceramics, baked goods, linens, aprons, door swags, stuffed toys, place cards, lamps, artificial poinsettia plants, corsages, gift wrappings, hand bags, pillows, gaily decorated candles, serving trays, baby booties and many other items.

The program was opened with Christmas carols led by Mrs. LaVerne Morgan, assisted by Mrs. Marion Rife.

MRS. JOANNE GILL, home service representative for the Dayton Power and Light Co., gave demonstrations on "Christmas Salads." She demonstrated a Christmas Tree gelatin salad, a molded star salad garnished with red and green cherries, a Yule Log chilled salad, and an orange cup salad garnish for meat dishes. Mrs. Gill emphasized the use of crisp and fresh fruits and vegetables for salads.

A fashion revue was presented by representatives of the Home Demonstration clubs who attended the "Tailored Suit and Coat Classes."

The models were Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, suit; Mrs. Wendell Barr coat; Mrs. Willard Bloomer, suit, Mrs. Hoyt Bock, coat; Mrs. Orville Bush, coat; Mrs. Walter Carman, suit; Mrs. Edward Lee Carson, coat; Mrs. Russell Grice, suit; Mrs. Kenneth Horney, suit; Mrs. Robert Huff, suit; Mrs. Maryon Mark, coat; Mrs. Homer McCoy, suit; Mrs. William Peacock, suit; Mrs. Carl Rea, suit; Miss Arbana Roush, suit; Mrs. Emma Smeltzer, suit, Mrs. John Stokes, coat; Mrs. Richard Waters, suit; Mrs. Kenneth Watson, coat; Mrs. Raymond Wissler, suit; and Mrs. Woodrow Workman, coat.

Each garment modeled was made by the model herself. Mrs. Norma Cunningham, home economics extension agent, was the narrator.

MRS. FOREST E. HAINES of the Perry Township Home Demonstration Club made this Christmas tree skirt. A designed felt material was used.

Shoplifting Ring Broken By Columbus Arrests

COLUMBUS (AP) — A statewide shoplifting ring was reported broken here with the arrest of three Cleveland people. The arrests came shortly after some $1,000 worth of merchandise was stolen from three downtown department stores here.

The three are Willie Williams, 24; Mrs. Lillian E. Taylor, 33, and Mrs. Shirley J. Williams, 23. The Williamses are not related.

The grand duchy of Luxemburg, which is bounded by Germany, Belgium and France, occupies an area of 999 square miles.

DAR To Meet With Mrs. Agle

William Horney Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its December meeting in the home of Mrs. Ralph N. Agle, near Jeffersonville, Wednesday.

Mrs. Marvin Stockwell will have charge of a Yuletide program, and the members will conduct a gift exchange.

An election of delegates to the Continental Congress will also be held.

Assisting hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Frank R. Marshall, Mrs. John E. Robbins, Mrs. Earl Eltzroth, Mrs. Foster Jenks, Mrs. Carroll Ritenour and Mrs. J. C. McCarty.

Shoplifting Ring Broken By Columbus Arrests

COLUMBUS (AP) — A statewide shoplifting ring was reported broken here with the arrest of three Cleveland people. The arrests came shortly after some $1,000 worth of merchandise was stolen from three downtown department stores here.

The three are Willie Williams, 24; Mrs. Lillian E. Taylor, 33, and Mrs. Shirley J. Williams, 23. The Williamses are not related.

The grand duchy of Luxemburg, which is bounded by Germany, Belgium and France, occupies an area of 999 square miles.

DAR To Meet With Mrs. Agle

William Horney Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its December meeting in the home of Mrs. Ralph N. Agle, near Jeffersonville, Wednesday.

Mrs. Marvin Stockwell will have charge of a Yuletide program, and the members will conduct a gift exchange.

An election of delegates to the Continental Congress will also be held.

Assisting hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Frank R. Marshall, Mrs. John E. Robbins, Mrs. Earl Eltzroth, Mrs. Foster Jenks, Mrs. Carroll Ritenour and Mrs. J. C. McCarty.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Recently I told you about Fayette streams changing their channels, and since I wrote the other article I have seen two sizeable islands in Paint Creek, between the Robinson Rd. and the bridge on Route 35 east.

Both islands apparently were formed by channels clogged with trees and other refuse. Those islands were new to me.

In fact, at one point where the main channel of Paint Creek is joined by the other at the lower end of the island, is a logjam at the present time, which seriously interferes with the free flow of the stream, and during flood times would do much to divert the main flow of water into the smaller channel cut on the west side of the island.

Brief examination disclosed that the trunk of a tree, which had fallen across the stream, was half inbedded in the earth on the bottom of the stream, and that it apparently had been there 50 to 100 years.

This and other obstruction had resulted in a clump of willows growing near the center of the stream, and the willows do much toward helping hold additional logs, limbs and refuse.

A short distance below the island a tree had fallen across the creek but was still green as result of roots in the bank, and the tree had been twisted aside by accumulation above it, and is now parellel with the bank.

Chief Vaiden Long was with me on the bit of exploring along the stream, and we noted that formerly Paint Creek had in some places, flowed at least 100 yards east of its present channel as indicated by the steep embankment on the east side of the stream.

A choked channel hundreds of years ago had resulted in the stream changing its course, as it is now doing about the two islands.

"LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON"

It was 20 years ago this week that Everett Jones, a young man who had spent most of his 32 years in correctional institutions, was found guilty of the first degree murder of Robert Lindsay, Jeffersonville restaurant proprietor. The jury did not recommend mercy.

As a matter of fact, Jones, an odd character, had involved a boy (Walter Barnes) in the killing, and admitted on the witness stand that he had killed Lindsay when the latter pulled a gun from under the counter in resisting a holdup.

But what I started to tell you was one of the many extraordinary things I recall about the Jones murder case, which I covered from beginning to end. This was the fact that the fathers of two of the jurors in the Jones case had voted to hang William George Washington Smith, the only man ever executed in the county, just 71 years prior to the conviction of Jones.

On the Jones jury were Ralph B. Braden, whose father, Thomas Braden, had voted to hang Smith, and E. E. Vannorsdall, whose father, J. Riley Vannorsdall was on the Smith jury.

Smith was hanged in the county jail yard here some months after being found guilty, and Jones was electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary a few months after being sentenced to death.

I visited him in "death row" two days before he was electrocuted.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Anna Hahn, Cincinnati murderess who was found guilty of poisoning one man and suspected of poisoning three others, was taken through city enroute to death cell in Ohio Penitentiary to await electrocution.

Newton Dowler was held up and robbed near heart of city, at the noon hour and the holdup trio escaped in auto.

A B&O freight train was ransacked here and valuable goods stolen while the train was in motion.

The second World War was in the offing as Mussolini issued a statement against democracies.

Olive Chapel M. E. Church, in southern Fayette, County was abandoned and sold to Glenn Cline who was to convert it into a residence property.

Hundreds claimed the 8 per cent dividend declared in liquidating the Ohio State Bank.

Respiratory Diseases Show Jump in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Public Health Service has reported an apparent increase in the severity of the acute upper respiratory diseases which have been sweeping the country.

But the service added that the peak of new cases "at least for the present, was passed in mid-October.

"Apparent severity, measured in terms of days in bed per case, gradually has been increasing," the service said in its weekly report on health survey samplings.

Betting Bookkeeper Files Guilty Plea

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 46-year-old woman bookkeeper who admitted stealing $96,000 from her employer to bet on the horses pleaded guilty to embezzlement Thursday in common pleas court.

Judge B. N. Nicola withheld sentence for Mrs. Louise Madigan, who told him she was unable to make restitution.

Mrs. Madigan admitted to police last July that she had taken the money over a three-year period from the petty cash fund of the law firm of M. B. and J. J. Johnson, where she had been employed 10 years.

She said she had bet the money with a bookie, but police have been unable to find the man whom she has identified.

$3 Million Fund OKd For Diagnostic Center

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Controlling Board has released slightly more than $3 million for two new buildings at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center here.

The building will house a 150-bed reception and classification center and a 100-bed psychiatric treatment institution for delinquent children.

The board also released $1,670,000 for a new business building at Miami University.

In 1957 a total of 4,276 Braham cattle were shipped from the United States to 42 foreign countries.

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By RON COFFMAN

With a flurry of sparkling snow and the merry glow of ornaments, we find ourselves once more welcoming the Christmas season with all of its splendor and glory.

In the eyes of a high school student, however, one thought crowds the mind; the Y-Teen Christmas dance tomorrow night.

For the girls this means the rustle of a new formal and the anticipation of enjoyment of long weeks of hard work (both planning the dance and decorating the gym, and pursuing and persuading that certain boy); and for the boy it means the final brush of an unruly lock of hair or a last shine of a dull spot on his shoe and then off to begin the long—awaited evening.

The dance this year promises to be one of the most beautiful and exciting in years, with the theme of Santa's Workshop imaginatively carried out by the presence of many stuffed animals throughout the gym, and a beautiful white tree to be placed in the center of the dance floor and complimented with red lights.

To further carry out this theme, smaller white trees will border the floor at various points. According to latest figures, more than one hundred couples will be in attendence.

The couples attending the 9 to 12 p. m. dance will be entertained by the Girl's Glee Club, directed by Mr. Grover Baber, a poem read by Cathy Croker, and "White Christmas," sung by Barbara Rose and accompanied by Ann Johnson.

A special salute must also go to the committee chairmen who, for the past three weeks, have worked faithfully to make this year's dance the best ever. These students are: Jowanda Wilson, decorations chairman: Charilyn Reinke, refreshment chairman. Wande Huff, band chairman, and Kristin Himmelspach, entertainment chairman. A vote of thanks also, the Marianne Mouser, Senior Y-Teen president, who has been a general overseer for the entire program.

Leaders of the various Y-Teen organizations are: Senior Y-Teens, Marianne Mouser, president; Martha Parrett, vice president; Linda Laymon, secretary; Linda Halliday, treasurer; Helen Smith, news reporter, Janice Kelley, program chairman, and Miss Evans, advisor. Sophomore Y-Teens, Mary Jane Limes, president; Ann Waters, vice president; Sharon Smith, secretary; Edith Bach, treasurer; Ann McDonald, program chairman, and Miss Reid, advisor. Freshmen Y-Teens, Mary Ann Barr, president; Josianne Glitt, vice-president; Sandy Cooper, secretary; Cathy Mulvihill, treasurer, Nancy Drew, program chairman, and Nancy Crooks, news reporter, Mrs. Mayo is the advisor.

THIS WEEK our survey of WHS students finds these songs most popular: (1) "Jailhouse Rock" (2) "April Love," (3) "Chances Are," (4) "Kisses Sweeter than Wine," (5) "My Special Angel." Coming Up: "Raunchy".

ANS. TO QUERY: Contrary to the opinion of one of our students, the school library is used by approximately 110 students per day, or more than 12 per cent of our school population. If this is wasted money, it would seem to this reporter that some more money could be "wasted" in this field.

DESPITE a small attendance, the Hi-Y meeting Tuesday night was one of the best and most successful of the year. After the business meeting, during which plans for the annual Christmas tree pick-up were outlined, two speeches were presented about "Clean Living," one of the club's platform planks.

Speaking about the physical side of this subject was Dr. Hugh Payton, and speaking about the spiritual side was the Rev. W. Neil Hand of the Presbyterian Church.

The talks were presented and received, and an interesting post-speech discussion evolved among the two gentlemen and the club members concerning various aspect of clean living.

The club's next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, in Room 1 at 7:30 p. m.

Officers of the Hi-Y Club are: Dale Fent, president; Earl Palmer and Phil French, vice president; Doug Rider, secretary; Peter Hays, treasurer; Ron Coffman, chaplain, and Mike Lawrence, sergeant -at-arms.

NOTE TO the Junior High: "The reward of a job is doing it well." Keep this in mind, for at the rate your magazine sales prizes are being delivered by the company, this may be all the reward you'll receive.

HAPPY THOUGHT: In two weeks we will again bask in the joy of vacation.

AS WAS PREDICTED in this column some weeks ago, WHS now has a full fledged pep club. The club, organized to boost student support of our athletic teams, will do its first cheering tonight at the Wilmington game.

As student support of our teams has been somewhat short of spectacular, we feel that this club may be the first step toward a return to the original purpose of the games; to provide recreation for the boys and good entertainment for the student body.

Support of this club is considered vital to the maintenance of our present athletic program. Remember, the purpose of the student body is to BOOST, NOT BOO.

WE WERE HAPPY to see all the students obeying the newly-enforced safety regulations. This was a great step forward toward ridding our city of traffic dangers and if all adults would cooperate as whole-heartedly as the students have done, there would be no accidents.

THE BUDDING artists of the Junior Class had another chance to display their genius this week, as Mr. Russell gave another map-drawing assignment. Some of the ones drawn seem to look oddly like ones in the book, though.

THE ENTIRE student body would like to take this opportunity to express their deep and sincere condolences to Mrs. Hagerty, whose sister passed away last Friday in Zanesville. She had been in ill health for sometime.

BE SURE to attend the game tonight as the Lions try to put away their first SCO league victory of the season. It will be an exciting game, and we look forward to seeing many people from Washington there. (Both students and adults.)

1958 Outlook Very Rosy to Some Experts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Neither a soggy stock market nor the qualms of some bankers can stay the business optimists today in their yearend practice of foreseeing a better year dawning.

Quite a number see 1958 showing an over-all gain for the economy. Even more believe their own industry or company will forge ahead. Let's push aside the gloom of the many and look today at some who are more cheery.

The gross national product—the dollar total of the nation's output of goods and services—will climb from this year's estimated 435 billion dollars to a whopping 460 billion in 1958 in the opinion of W. W. Morris, director of market research for Westinghouse Electric. He adds that his own industry should gain, with heavy capital goods showing a moderate increase and appliance sales up 4 per cent.

William C. Carlin, economist for Republic Steel, sees the capital goods industry today in a fairly shallow trough between two enormous waves of expansion.

The nation can move into 1958 with the bounce of optimism in its step, says J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Co vice president who is general manager of its Ford division. He believes the Pentagon, which has been holding back because of an economy wave, will hand out a flood of new defense orders early in the year.

Not to be outdone by this, Wright's opposite number at General Motors — E. N. Cole, a vice president and general manager of the Chevrolet division — says the over-all strength and vitality of the economy should support an "extremely strong automobile market."

The aluminum industry, currently with an over supply of metal on its hands — is also optimistic of the future. Richard S. Reynolds Jr., president of Reynolds Metals, says new uses being developed will boost consumption by 1½ billion pounds within the next three years, while increased consumption for existing products will add another billion to the total.

William Bynum, president of Carrier Corp., says that a survey of 4,330 manufacturers by the National Assn. of Manufacturers of which he is a director, shows more than one third expecting increased sales next year and 45 per cent expecting them to be as good as this year

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York foresees only mild adjustments during the current business breather before a new spurt ahead. It expects construction activity to increase and looks for more military spending.

Privately, some New York bankers are forecasting a drop early in the year in the interest charges on business loans

Military Studying Use of Ohio Roads

COLUMBUS (AP)—The military in the future may use Ohio roads to carry some of its rockets and airplane fusilages, the Ohio Department of Highways says.

Charles M. Noble, Ohio's highway chief, said military men met with him and Capt. D. W. Unkle, enforcement chief of the State Highway Patrol, to discuss truck use of roads.

Unkle said there were inquiries about making shipments 74 feet long and 10 feet wide. Such a shipment would require a special permit. Ohio law requires trailers to be no longer than 50 feet nor wider than eight feet.

Burglaries Stall Buses

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — Burglars who pried open fare boxes on eight parked buses and escaped with more than $1,000, also caused a delay in bus service.

New Ship To Feature Smokestack Solarium

NEW YORK (AP) — A new liner will feature a partitioned solarium in a smokestack where passengers can sunbathe.

The dummy smokestack will be atop the liner Brasil, which goes into New York-South America service next summer.

The vessel, being constructed for the Mooore-McCormack Steamship Line needs no topside stacks. The exhaust from her engines will be vented through stern outlets.

Over one - half of the world's supply of carbon black is manufactured in the vicinity of Borger, Texas. (Pop. 10,018).

Priest Is Cited For 'Ham' Work

GREEN BABY, Wis. (AP) — A priest who doubles as a ham radio operator has been cited by the American Radio Relay League for his part in handling emergency messages during a blizzard.

The Rev. Fidelis V. Filipek, chaplain at St. Vincent's Catholic Hospital here, received the "public service" certificate after extensive investigation by the league.

Father Filipek was chaplain at St. John's Hospital, Huron, S. D., when a blizzard struck the Dakotas and Nebraskas early in April of 1956. He spent nearly all his time during a two - day period keeping in contact with other operators relaying messages to emergency personnel. Regular communication lines were down at the time.

Solon Predicts Tourist Boom for Antarctic

HONOLULU (AP) – Rep Robert Hale (R-Maine), thawing out in Honolulu after a tour of antarctic exploration bases, predicted today large numbers of tourists will be flocking to the antarctic in a few years He said it is "the most beautiful of all continents" and its weather is "really quite pleasant in the summer."

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By RON COFFMAN

With a flurry of sparkling snow and the merry glow of ornaments, we find ourselves once more welcoming the Christmas season with all of its splendor and glory.

In the eyes of a high school student, however, one thought crowds the mind; the Y-Teen Christmas dance tomorrow night.

For the girls this means the rustle of a new formal and the anticipation of enjoyment of long weeks of hard work (both planning the dance and decorating the gym, and pursuing and persuading that certain boy); and for the boy it means the final brush of an unruly lock of hair or a last shine of a dull spot on his shoe and then off to begin the long—awaited evening.

The dance this year promises to be one of the most beautiful and exciting in years, with the theme of Santa's Workshop imaginatively carried out by the presence of many stuffed animals throughout the gym, and a beautiful white tree to be placed in the center of the dance floor and complimented with red lights.

To further carry out this theme, smaller white trees will border the floor at various points. According to latest figures, more than one hundred couples will be in attendence.

The couples attending the 9 to 12 p. m. dance will be entertained by the Girl's Glee Club, directed by Mr. Grover Baber, a poem read by Cathy Croker, and "White Christmas," sung by Barbara Rose and accompanied by Ann Johnson.

A special salute must also go to the committee chairmen who, for the past three weeks, have worked faithfully to make this year's dance the best ever. These students are: Jowanda Wilson, decorations chairman: Charilyn Reinke, refreshment chairman. Wande Huff, band chairman, and Kristin Himmelspach, entertainment chairman. A vote of thanks also, the Marianne Mouser, Senior Y-Teen president, who has been a general overseer for the entire program.

Leaders of the various Y-Teen organizations are: Senior Y-Teens, Marianne Mouser, president; Martha Parrett, vice president; Linda Laymon, secretary; Linda Halliday, treasurer; Helen Smith, news reporter, Janice Kelley, program chairman, and Miss Evans, advisor. Sophomore Y-Teens, Mary Jane Limes, president; Ann Waters, vice president; Sharon Smith, secretary; Edith Bach, treasurer; Ann McDonald, program chairman, and Miss Reid, advisor. Freshmen Y-Teens, Mary Ann Barr, president; Josianne Glitt, vice-president; Sandy Cooper, secretary; Cathy Mulvihill, treasurer, Nancy Drew, program chairman, and Nancy Crooks, news reporter, Mrs. Mayo is the advisor.

THIS WEEK our survey of WHS students finds these songs most popular: (1) "Jailhouse Rock" (2) "April Love," (3) "Chances Are," (4) "Kisses Sweeter than Wine," (5) "My Special Angel." Coming Up: "Raunchy".

ANS. TO QUERY: Contrary to the opinion of one of our students, the school library is used by approximately 110 students per day, or more than 12 per cent of our school population. If this is wasted money, it would seem to this reporter that some more money could be "wasted" in this field.

DESPITE a small attendance, the Hi-Y meeting Tuesday night was one of the best and most successful of the year. After the business meeting, during which plans for the annual Christmas tree pick-up were outlined, two speeches were presented about "Clean Living," one of the club's platform planks.

Speaking about the physical side of this subject was Dr. Hugh Payton, and speaking about the spiritual side was the Rev. W. Neil Hand of the Presbyterian Church.

The talks were presented and received, and an interesting post-speech discussion evolved among the two gentlemen and the club members concerning various aspect of clean living.

The club's next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, in Room 1 at 7:30 p. m.

Officers of the Hi-Y Club are: Dale Fent, president; Earl Palmer and Phil French, vice president; Doug Rider, secretary; Peter Hays, treasurer; Ron Coffman, chaplain, and Mike Lawrence, sergeant -at-ams.

NOTE TO the Junior High: "The reward of a job is doing it well." Keep this in mind, for at the rate your magazine sales prizes are being delivered by the company, this may be all the reward you'll receive.

HAPPY THOUGHT: In two weeks we will again bask in the joy of vacation.

AS WAS PREDICTED in this column some weeks ago, WHS now has a full fledged pep club. The club, organized to boost student support of our athletic teams, will do its first cheering tonight at the Wilmington game.

As student support of our teams has been somewhat short of spectacular, we feel that this club may be the first step toward a return to the original purpose of the games; to provide recreation for the boys and good entertainment for the student body.

Support of this club is considered vital to the maintenance of our present athletic program. Remember, the purpose of the student body is to BOOST, NOT BOO.

WE WERE HAPPY to see all the students obeying the newly-enforced safety regulations. This was a great step forward toward ridding our city of traffic dangers and if all adults would cooperate as whole-heartedly as the students have done, there would be no accidents.

THE BUDDING artists of the Junior Class had another chance to display their genius this week, as Mr. Russell gave another map-drawing assignment. Some of the ones drawn seem to look oddly like ones in the book, though.

THE ENTIRE student body would like to take this opportunity to express their deep and sincere condolences to Mrs. Hagerty, whose sister passed away last Friday in Zanesville. She had been in ill health for sometime.

BE SURE to attend the game tonight as the Lions try to put away their first SCO league victory of the season. It will be an exciting game, and we look forward to seeing many people from Washington there. (Both students and adults.)

1958 Outlook Very Rosy to Some Experts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Neither a soggy stock market nor the qualms of some bankers can stay the business optimists today in their yearend practice of foreseeing a better year dawning.

Quite a number see 1958 showing an over-all gain for the economy. Even more believe their own industry or company will forge ahead. Let's push aside the gloom of the many and look today at some who are more cheery.

The gross national product—the dollar total of the nation's output of goods and services—will climb from this year's estimated 435 billion dollars to a whopping 460 billion in 1958 in the opinion of W. W. Morris, director of market research for Westinghouse Electric. He adds that his own industry should gain, with heavy capital goods showing a moderate increase and appliance sales up 4 per cent.

William C. Carlin, economist for Republic Steel, sees the capital goods industry today in a fairly shallow trough between two enormous waves of expansion.

The nation can move into 1958 with the bounce of optimism in its step, says J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Co vice president who is general manager of its Ford division. He believes the Pentagon, which has been holding back because of an economy wave, will hand out a flood of new defense orders early in the year.

Not to be outdone by this, Wright's opposite number at General Motors — E. N. Cole, a vice president and general manager of the Chevrolet division — says the over-all strength and vitality of the economy should support an "extremely strong automobile market."

The aluminum industry, currently with an over supply of metal on its hands — is also optimistic of the future. Richard S. Reynolds Jr., president of Reynolds Metals, says new uses being developed will boost consumption by 1½ billion pounds within the next three years, while increased consumption for existing products will add another billion to the total.

William Bynum, president of Carrier Corp., says that a survey of 4,330 manufacturers by the National Assn. of Manufacturers of which he is a director, shows more than one third expecting increased sales next year and 45 per cent expecting them to be as good as this year

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York foresees only mild adjustments during the current business breather before a new spurt ahead. It expects construction activity to increase and looks for more military spending.

Privately, some New York bankers are forecasting a drop early in the year in the interest charges on business loans

65 Join Annual Fayette Swine Tour

SWINE GROWERS WERE interested in the concrete-floored feedng pens at the Jenks farm.

Sixty-five farmers, vo c ation a l agricultural students and members of the Extension Service from Ohio State University attended the annual swine tour held Thursday in the northern half of Fayette County. It was probably the largest event of its kind ever held here.

Farmers learned how other hog producers are using mechanical equipment to lighten the l a b or load of handling feed and grain in producing hogs.

At the Lewis Redd farm, Wissler Rd., they saw where the feed was ground and mixed in overhead bins and run directly in the feeders.

T. Glenn McCoy showed his operation whereby he can pickershell his corn in the field at 30 per cent moisture, bring it in and dry in a dryer with heat at a rate of 1,000 bushels per day and then store up to 20,000 bushels.

FARROWING stalls seen at the farms of E. E. Jenks and Harlan Hoppes were of particular interest. Both expressed the idea that from one to two pigs more per litter were saved.

Tour members were shown at the Jenk farm how to probe for back-fat thickness which is one of the indications of the amount of lean meat a carcass will produce.

At the afternoon meeting Herbert Barnes explained the use, advantages and limita t i o n s of studying back-fat thickness.

The afternoon sessions were in the Jeffersonville High School auditorium. County Agent W. W. Montgomery acted as chairman.

Robert Owens reported on t h e National Swine Growers Coun c il annual meeting held in Davenport, Iowa, last month. The idea of the Council is to promote pork products They are in favor of some form of market check-off to use the proceeds in pork promotion.

THE SWINE EVALUATION Stations results, which have b e e n summarized through 1954 to 1956 spring litters, was made by Charles Calhoun, member in charge of the work at the station.

A DEMONSTRATION on probing for back fat was given by Herbert Barnes.

Fayette County hog producers are first in the state in supporting swine improvement work in Ohio. and have 50 litters represented at the Evaluation Station.

Robert Shannon, of the Producers Livestock Assn., Columbus, who attended the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, made a report of the Barrow Show winnings.

Both Barnes and Shannon reported that Fayette County's pork queen, Gloria C l e l a n d, did a splendid job at the International show Wednesday in giving her report, distributing ribbons a n d otherwise representing the swine industry.

The meeting closed with a question and answer p e r i o d with Barnes, Shannon, Calhoun and C. C. Bowen on the discussion panel.

Today we just plain rubber-necked all over town.

Should these columns follow in any logical sequence, the next should be on foot care and nervous tension remedies.

We hope that by our endeavors here we may spare the reader a bit of the wear and tear that goes with such a venture. On second thought we wouldn't have missed it for all the world.

It is well worth a few bruised shins and crying feet to witness the galaxy of Christmas items offered this year.

We found early in the trip a child's rocker possessing all the styling and elegance of adult furniture at toy prices. These charming chairs are upholstered in lovely fabrics and come in either blond or mahogany finish.

THE NEXT ITEM is one of those little pin-money gems that can be used a stocking stuffer or grab bag gift. It is a minature kerosene lamp with frosted chimney and china base. The base is delicately decorated with roses.

These precious little lamps are only 6½ inches tall and priced at a wee 98 cents. There are two different styles available.

AS A GIFT or for your own use we heartily recommend the imported hard candies offered in a gift department of one of the local department store.

These candies are imported from England a they have managed to capture the true flavor of the fruit in every piece.

Regardless of the amount you desire, all are attractively packaged for giving. For your own use, they will add that bright jewel look to your candy jars.

Have you a collector of 8" dolls in your midst. We have and were most happy to find doll furniture for these little misses in black plastic with colorful foam rubber cushions. There is a living room suite and a bedroom suite. Each set is priced at $3.98.

FOR OUR 9 - year - old Robin Hood we found a toy fencing set at another store. It is completely safe as the rapiers are rubber tipped and the masks of sturdy plastic. These sell for $1.98.

As we have managed to go fairly easy on the pocketbook this trip we would like to close by mentioning another of those gifts which a family might give to themselves.

It is a table bench entitled "The Smart-Setter" by Tonk. This is a tremendous cocktail table, 18" x 72" with a molded air foam cushion at one end.

Chief Chaplain Says GIs Increase Interest in Religion

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has been a great upsurge of religion among our service personnel all over the world, says the Army chief of chaplains, Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Ryan, chairman of the Armed Services Chaplains Board.

"Our religious program in the Army has never been more strong than now," Chaplain Ryan, a veteran of more than 29 years in the Army's 182-year-old corps of "silent men", told a women's luncheon meeting here.

Through its character guidance service, stepped up shortly after World War II, when Chaplain Ryan said morality among the armed forces "hit an all-time low," the chaplain's service hopes a young man will return to civilian life as good a man, or better.

The strength of the program, he said, is the corps of dedicated, trained chaplains and the "enlightened policy of the Department of the Army—it's intelligent attention to things religious.

Some 1,200 Army chaplains are currently on duty at posts around the world. Of these 30 per cent are Roman Catholic, 5 per cent Jewish and 65 per cent Protestant. These religious men, together with even larger numbers in the Air Force and Navy, are closer to the service man than his civilian pastor, Father Ryan said.

"They share a close comraderie. Both are in uniform, are subject to the same discipline, the same loneliness. This helps to break down the formal atmosphere of the rectory, encourages a less formal approach."

The Army has some 900 chapels and churches over the world and each year builds 12 to 15 new ones. It maintains retreat houses in Germany (one a former rest center for Field Marshal Goering's Nazi pilots during World War II), in Japan and Korea. Over a three-year period ending last July, more through these centers.

"Their few days of concentrated prayer and meditation has a decided effect on the men," Chaplain Ryan said.

"Tell it to the chaplain is common advice. We kind of like that. It gives us a kind of bond with our men. We realize our tremendous responsibility to the country and the mothers of the country. America produces many superior things. Our youth is the greatest. Our charge is to keep that youth spiritually fit."

Chaplain Ryan, born in Minnesota, was with the Army in Africa and in Anzio, Italy, during World War II. He was honored for valor by the United States and has decorations from all countries where he has been stationed.

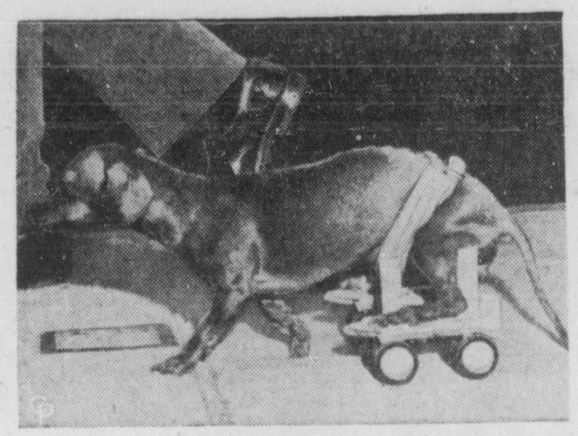
'Poor' Report Card Said Suicide Cause

DAYTON (AP) — A 12-year-old schoolgirl, whom authorities said shot herself after bringing home a poor report card, died today in Miami Valley Hospital.

Montgomery County sheriff's deputies said Sandra Lee Parks was found slumped over the bathtub in her home near here Wednesday. They said a .32 caliber pistol was found lying near the girl who had locked herself in the bathroom

They said she apparently shot herself after she brought home a "poor" report card.

Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming has an area of 3,472 square miles.



SKATING ALONG—Tippi, a miniature Dachshund who suffered paralysis of her hind quarters more than a year ago, moves about in New York on plastic roller skates attached to a light harness, provided by her owner, Roy Porter, a florist. She has regained partial use of her affected legs and may be able to use them again.

Jailhouse Doc

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Capt. Clinton Riggs of the Tulsa police department heard some of the jail inmates discussing advice on Asian flu supposedly handed out by an inmate doctor.

Riggs knew of no doctors in the jail, so he checked. The doctor in question was a tree surgeon.

SHOP TALK

By SHARON

Today we just plain rubber-necked all over town.

Should these columns follow in any logical sequence, the next should be on foot care and nervous tension remedies.

We hope that by our endeavors here we may spare the reader a bit of the wear and tear that goes with such a venture. On second thought we wouldn't have missed it for all the world.

It is well worth a few bruised shins and crying feet to witness the galaxy of Christmas items offered this year.

We found early in the trip a child's rocker possessing all the styling and elegance of adult furniture at toy prices. These charming chairs are upholstered in lovely fabrics and come in either blond or mahogany finish.

THE NEXT ITEM is one of those little pin-money gems that can be used a stocking stuffer or grab bag gift. It is a minature kerosene lamp with frosted chimney and china base. The base is delicately decorated with roses.

These precious little lamps are only 6½ inches tall and priced at a wee 98 cents. There are two different styles available.

This same store is dicontinuing their toy line and are closing out at ½ price.

In a local yard goods department we found the makings for a nice Christmas gift. These can be made by any child or an adult as unadept as your shopper.

They are place mats and matching napkins in Christmas motif.

These are purchases for $1.49 per yard and one yard makes four and four napkins. You simply cut them out from the stenciled patterns and fringe the edges. They are of spun rayon.

AS A GIFT or for your own use we heartily recommend the imported hard candies offered in a gift department of one of the local department store.

These candies are imported from England a they have managed to capture the true flavor of the fruit in every piece.

Regardless of the amount you desire, all are attractively packaged for giving. For your own use, they will add that bright jewel look to your candy jars.

Have you a collector of 8" dolls in your midst. We have and were most happy to find doll furniture for these little misses in black plastic with colorful foam rubber cushions. There is a living room suite and a bedroom suite. Each set is priced at $3.98.

Fayette County Candidates File Expense Reports

Groups, Individuals In Compliance With Election Laws

Nearly 50 candidates and organizations filed accounts listing campaign expenses with the Fayette County Board of Elections before the 4 p. m. deadline Thursday.

All candidates, boards and committees are required to submit reports, whether or not they actually incur expense. There were more than 100 office-seekers, but most of them merely listed "no receipts, no expenses".

The Hospital Booster Committee which unsuccessfully backed a bond issue for new construction and an operating levy, listed receipts of $1,250 and expenditures of $625. The balance will be returned to contributors, mostly Washington C. H. physicians. Robert Minshall headed the committee.

The Washington C. H. Board of Education listed receipts of $56.75 and expenditures in the same amount in behalf of the school district operating levy which was approved by voters.

The Miami Trace Board of Education received $329.27 and spent that amount in its successful sponsorship of the rural district operating levy.

CANDIDATES for Washington C. H. City Council reported no financial assistance in their campaigns but listed the following expenses: Walter Morrow, $49.62; Ben Norris, $15; James Shoemaker, $31.29; Joseph Loudner, $71.61; Ernest Merritt, $35.88; Ferrel Smith, $53.42; John Murphy, $26.51; Chester Trout, $30; Glenn Flint, $37.91; John Carr, $23.50; Floyd Tracy, none.

For Fayette County Board of Education posts the following reports were received: H. B. Lightly listed contributions of $36.96 and expenses of $74.56; Floyd Hoppes, contributions of $20 and expenses of $98.12; Eugene Avey, contributions of $20 and expenses of $78.65.

Three defeated candidates for county board reported that they received no contributions but listed the following expenditures: Richard Babb, $112,89; Leonard Allen, $126.72; Jesse Schlichter, $73.36.

Herbert Perrill and Robert Owens, successful candidates for reelection to the Miami Trace Board of Education each reported contributions of $30 and expenses of $56.72. Alfred Hagler listed expenses of $26.88 and Ralph Agle $26.88. Neither reported any contributions.

Washington C. H. board candidates listed no contributions or expenses.

OTHER EXPENSES listed with the board were:

Jefferson Township trustee: H. M. Blue, $11.60; Guy Coe, $5.97.

Union Township trustee: Delbert Carr, $8.51; Joe Campbell, $8.40; James W. Baughn Sr., $12.60; Herbert Clickner, $12.60.

Marion Township trustee: Dudley Briggs, $3.66.

Paint Township trustee: J. W. Looker, $5.67.

Madison Township trustee: Frank King, $4.64.

Milledgeville mayor: John Anderson, $5.

Jeffersonville Council: Ray DeWine, $15.79; Gerald Knost, $20.34; Ralph Detty, $5; L. C. Allen, $5. Mayor: Oscar Fannin, $5; C. R. Robinson, $5.93.

Three write-in candidates for the Jeffersonville Board of Public Affairs listed expenses of 50 cents each. Franklin Sears, Ralph Robinson and Paul F. Sharrett split a $1.50 charge for sample ballots.

SHADES OF FATIMA--A touch of the Orient will be given the "Hi-Fever Follies," a musical comedy to be staged next Wednesday and Thursday in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium for the Benefit of Memorial Hospital, by The Rockettes, a troupe of 12 pretty dancing girls. Two of the six Bali Boogie girls, Beverly Horney (left) and Barbara Rose, are shown here. Other Rockettes are Martha Parrett, Ann Johnson Jane Whiteside, Joan Knisley, Janet Ellis, Linda Loudner, Kathe Wright, Judy Lundberg, Edith Bach and Nancy Marting.

Savings and Loan Assn. Here Approaching 35th Anniversary

The First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. here was established on Dec. 8, 1922, but since the 35th anniversary falls on Sunday this year, its observance will hardly create a ripple on the surface. Walter Rettig, vice president and secretary, said.

The institution was chartered as the First Building and Loan Assn. by David S. Craig, the first president; Rell G. Allen, the first attorney; Glenn M. Pine, the first secretary; Glenn B. Rodgers, Clark Rowe and George A. Robinson, the only one of the charter members still alive.

The founders described themselves at the time as a group of men "who believe in and want to promote thrift and home ownership in Washington C. H. and the surrounding community."

In 1939, the association was "federalized"— that is, it was made a member of the Federal Home Loan System—and renamed the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Craig was still the president at that time, but Leonard Korn had succeeded Pine as the secretary With the "federalization" of the association, deposite up to $10,000 were insured by the government.

IN THE 35 YEARS the association—the original and its successor—has served the community as the only such financial institution in the county, hundreds of families have acquired their own homes through association financing and hundreds of individuals have carried savings accounts with it.

The association now has assets of nearly $5,000,000; around 800 home loans now outstanding and more than 2,500 savings accounts. An average of nearly 800 Christmas clubs have been carried by it each year for many years, the secretary said.

Officers of the association now are Hoy O. Simons, president Robert R. Meriweather, first vice president; Arthur H. Finley, second vice president; Rettig, vice president and secretary; Miss Mary Frances Snider. assistant secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Mary A. West, teller.

Business Notes

Sales Tax Receipts Up For 2nd Straight Week

Sales of prepaid tax receipts,generally regarded as the best barometer of business conditions in any community, have shown a gain over 1956 figures in Fayette County for the second week in a row.

According to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracey, tax stamp sales in Fayette County for the week ending Nov. 23 totaled $10,307.60 as against $9,898.02 for the same week last year.

This brought Fayette County tax stamp sales since July 1 to a total of $172,534.98 as compared with $171,145.12 for the same five-month period in 1956.

SALES for the week ending Nov. 16 totaled $9,646 as compared with only $6,856 for the same week the previous year.

For the week ending Nov. 9 there was a decrease under the previous year, but the week ending Nov. 2 showed a $2,000 increase over 1956.

Madison, Pickaway and Ross counties also are showing tax stamp sale gains over last year for the five-month period. Clinton, Greene and Highland are running behind last year.

THE STATE Liquor Store, 244 E. Court St., will remain open until 9 p. m. on Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 23, and on Dec. 26, 27, 28 and 30, rather than observing the normal closing hour of 7 p. m. The usual opening hour of 11 a. m. remains unchanged on these days.

To allow stores personnel to be with their families, stores will close at 6 p. m. on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

Extra help has been put on temporarily to help handle the large volume holiday sales. Nearly one-fourth of the year's sales occur during the last two months of the year. Holiday sales are expected to total $38 million, bringing the year's total to an all-time high. In 1956, previous record year, sales amounted to $219 million.

Sweetheart Slayer Slated for Tests

DAYTON (AP)—A 31 year-old Dayton man charged with first degree murder in the death of his two teen-age sweethearts has been sent to Lima State Hospital for 30 days observation.

Robert Crites was ordered to the hospital by Common Pleas Judge Charles Lee Mills.

Police said Crites admitted shooting to death Mrs. Deanna Jean Fouch, 16, and her roommate Beverly Ann Eldred, 17, on a country road near here Nov. 10. Officers said Crites told them he did not want his wife to know he was going with the girls.

Canton Jury Fails To Reach Verdict

CANTON (AP)—Downcast because a jury from whom they expected acquittal could not agree, Alfred Calabrese, 37, of Cleveland and Paul Perotti, 32, of Chardon, remained in jail today awaiting a prosecution move to try them again for murder.

They are accused in the holdup slaying of Eldon Shoup, 25, of Alliance Feb. 7.

Thursday night, after four hours of deliberation and six deadlocked ballots, a jury of eight men and four women was discharged by Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham. They told the judge all but one of them felt they could never agree.

Fayette County Candidates File Expense Reports

Groups, Individuals In Compliance With Election Laws

Nearly 50 candidates and organizations filed accounts listing campaign expenses with the Fayette County Board of Elections before the 4 p. m. deadline Thursday.

All candidates, boards and committees are required to submit reports, whether or not they actually incur expense. There were more than 100 office-seekers, but most of them merely listed "no receipts, no expenses".

The Hospital Booster Committee which unsuccessfully backed a bond issue for new construction and an operating levy, listed receipts of $1,250 and expenditures of $625. The balance will be returned to contributors, mostly Washington C. H. physicians. Robert Minshall headed the committee.

The Washington C. H. Board of Education listed receipts of $56.75 and expenditures in the same amount in behalf of the school district operating levy which was approved by voters.

The Miami Trace Board of Education received $329.27 and spent that amount in its successful sponsorship of the rural district operating levy.

CANDIDATES for Washington C. H. City Council reported no financial assistance in their campaigns but listed the following expenses: Walter Morrow, $49.62; Ben Norris, $15; James Shoemaker, $31.29; Joseph Loudner, $71.61; Ernest Merritt, $35.88; Ferrel Smith, $53.42; John Murphy, $26.51; Chester Trout, $30; Glenn Flint, $37.91; John Carr, $23.50; Floyd Tracy, none.

For Fayette County Board of Education posts the following reports were received: H. B. Lightly listed contributions of $36.96 and expenses of $74.56; Floyd Hoppes, contributions of $20 and expenses of $98.12; Eugene Avey, contributions of $20 and expenses of $78.65.

Three defeated candidates for county board reported that they received no contributions but listed the following expenditures: Richard Babb, $112,89; Leonard Allen, $126.72; Jesse Schlichter, $73.36.

Herbert Perrill and Robert Owens, successful candidates for reelection to the Miami Trace Board of Education each reported contributions of $30 and expenses of $56.72. Alfred Hagler listed expenses of $26.88 and Ralph Agle $26.88. Neither reported any contributions.

Washington C. H. board candidates listed no contributions or expenses.

OTHER EXPENSES listed with the board were:

Jefferson Township trustee: H. M. Blue, $11.60; Guy Coe, $5.97.

Union Township trustee: Delbert Carr, $8.51; Joe Campbell, $8.40; James W. Baughn Sr., $12.60; Herbert Clickner, $12.60.

Marion Township trustee: Dudley Briggs, $3.66.

Paint Township trustee: J. W. Looker, $5.67.

Madison Township trustee: Frank King, $4.64.

Milledgeville mayor: John Anderson, $5.

Jeffersonville Council: Ray DeWine, $15.79; Gerald Knost, $20.34; Ralph Detty, $5; L. C. Allen, $5. Mayor: Oscar Fannin, $5; C. R. Robinson, $5.93.

Three write-in candidates for the Jeffersonville Board of Public Affairs listed expenses of 50 cents each. Franklin Sears, Ralph Robinson and Paul F. Sharrett split a $1.50 charge for sample ballots.

SHADES OF FATIMA--A touch of the Orient will be given the "Hi-Fever Follies," a musical comedy to be staged next Wednesday and Thursday in the Washington C. H. High School auditorium for the Benefit of Memorial Hospital, by The Rockettes, a troupe of 12 pretty dancing girls. Two of the six Ball Boogie girls, Beverly Horney (left) and Barbara Rose, are shown here. Other Rockettes are Martha Parrett, Ann Johnson Jane Whiteside, Joan Knisley, Janet Ellis, Linda Loudner, Kathe Wright, Judy Lundberg, Edith Bach and Nancy Marting.

The First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. here was established on Dec. 8, 1922, but since the 35th anniversary falls on Sunday this year, its observance will hardly create a ripple on the surface. Walter Rettig, vice president and secretary, said.

The institution was chartered as the First Building and Loan Assn. by David S. Craig, the first president; Rell G. Allen, the first attorney; Glenn M. Pine, the first secretary; Glenn B. Rodgers, Clark Rowe and George A. Robinson, the only one of the charter members still alive.

The founders described themselves at the time as a group of men "who believe in and want to promote thrift and home ownership in Washington C. H. and the surrounding community."

In 1939, the association was "federalized"— that is, it was made a member of the Federal Home Loan System—and renamed the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Craig was still the president at that time, but Leonard Korn had succeeded Pine as the secretary With the "federalization" of the association, deposite up to $10,000 were insured by the government.

IN THE 35 YEARS the association—the original and its successor—has served the community as the only such financial institution in the county, hundreds of families have acquired their own homes through association financing and hundreds of individuals have carried savings accounts with it.

The association now has assets of nearly $5,000,000; around 800 home loans now outstanding and more than 2,500 savings accounts. An average of nearly 800 Christmas clubs have been carried by it each year for many years, the secretary said.

Officers of the association now are Hoy O. Simons, president Robert R. Meriweather, first vice president; Arthur H. Finley, second vice president; Rettig, vice president and secretary; Miss Mary Frances Snider. assistant secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Mary A. West, teller.

Sales Tax Receipts Up For 2nd Straight Week

Sales of prepaid tax receipts, generally regarded as the best barometer of business conditions in any community, have shown a gain over 1956 figures in Fayette County for the second week in a row.

According to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracey, tax stamp sales in Fayette County for the week ending Nov. 23 totaled $10,307.60 as against $9,898.02 for the same week last year.

This brought Fayette County tax stamp sales since July 1 to a total of $172,534.98 as compared with $171,145.12 for the same five-month period in 1956.

SALES for the week ending Nov. 16 totaled $9,646 as compared with only $6,856 for the same week the previous year.

For the week ending Nov. 9 there was a decrease under the previous year, but the week ending Nov. 2 showed a $2,000 increase over 1956.

Madison, Pickaway and Ross counties also are showing tax stamp sale gains over last year for the five-month period. Clinton, Greene and Highland are running behind last year.

THE STATE Liquor Store, 244 E. Court St., will remain open until 9 p. m. on Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21 and 23, and on Dec. 26, 27, 28 and 30, rather than observing the normal closing hour of 7 p. m. The usual opening hour of 11 a. m. remains unchanged on these days.

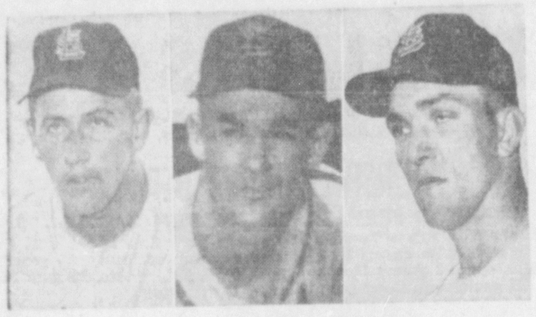
Joe Taylor — Curtis Flood



Marty Kutyna — Willard Schmidt — Ted Wieand

REDLEGS-CARDINALS SWAP YOUNGSTERS—In a five-man trade, the Cincinnati Redlegs have sent Outfielders Curtis Flood and Joe Taylor to the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for Pitchers Willard Schmidt, Ted Wieand and Marty Kutyna. The deal involves mostly young players. (International)

Woman, 72, Finally Winner In Long Gold Stock Dispute

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 27-year international legal battle behind her, Mrs. Idonah Slade Perkins winged back toward her home in Manila today, 144,000 shares of Philippine gold mining stock finally in her possession.

She flew into Cincinnati Thursday, paused only long enough to collect stock certificates certifying her ownership from the clerk of Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, then boarded a westbound flight.

The spry, 72-year - old former New York resident, even so, complained to the court that price of the stock had declined from $25 to $1 a share during the years since 1930 in which she had taken her case to the courts of New York and California, the Supreme Court of the United States and the Philippines and then into the Common Pleas tribunals of Hamilton County (Cincinnati) and adjoining Clermont County.

The Cincinnati case was filed against First National Bank of this city, as transfer agent of the stock while the Clermont suit named as defendant John W. Haussermann, a native of the county who went to the Islands in 1898 as a Spanish War volunteer and remained to achieve fame as "gold king of the Philippines.

Since 1916 he has been president of the Benguet Consolidated Gold Mining Co., of Baguio, P.I. whose stock was involved in Mrs. Perkins' long battle.

Haussermann, one-time assistant attorney general of the islands, will observe his 90th birthday Dec. 14 on his Clermont County farm.

Mrs. Perkins originally acquired the stock in New York and took it with her to Manila, her residence as the wife of Eugene Arthur Perkins, for years general counsel for the mining firm. Perkins sued for divorce in 1930, claiming the stock under a Philippine statute which held, in effect, that no woman could own any property except the clothes on her back. The statute was repealed shortly after World War II.

Mrs. Perkins contested the action, citing her American origin and the fact that she acquired the stock in New York.

The Perkins were divorced in 1934. He died last April.

In February, 1955 the courts finally ruled in favor of Mrs. Perkins.

Once more, however, legal difficulties ensued. Her attorneys demanded 40,000 shares of the stock in lieu of a cash fee.

Mrs. Perkins refused and the court ordered the shares placed in escrow pending settlement. A cash agreement involving $25,922 ultimately was reached and the court then ordered release of the stock. Mrs. Perkins' flight into, and from the city Thursday, followed.

Carolina State Looming Large As Cage Power

This May Be Season Of Comeback for Atlantic Coast Quint

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina State's Wolfpack the perennial Atlantic Coast kingpins until Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels came along to dominate the league and win the national title, may make this the season for a comeback.

At least the Wolfpack started out on the right foot in the Conference competition. Thursday night, they turned back Wake Forest 62-51 on a late drive that increased a slim two point lead to 15 during a four-minute stretch.

The slim college basketball schedule also was highlighted by Minnesota's 67-66 victory over Iowa State and Georgia Tech's 73-62 triumph over Alabama.

In other games, Tulsa opened by downing New Mexico A&M 62-56; Richmond beat Virginia Tech 72-62 in a Southern Conference game; Nebraska downed Wyoming 77-66; Princeton defeated Lafayette 75-72; St. John's of Brooklyn rode over Roanoke 86-62 and Louisville walloped Georgetown, Ky. 74-54.

North Carolina State, which had a 7-7 Conference mark and was 15-11 over-all last season, was ranked behind North Carolina, Maryland and Duke, in the 1957-1958 pre-season estimates. But the Wolfpack appeared improved against Wake Forest. Particularly impressive was Bob MacGillvray, a 6-4 junior, who scored 20 points—nine during State's pivotal rally.

Richmond thwarted Virginia Tech's offense with a sliding zone defense in the second half. Tech had a four-point lead at the half.

Tulsa, a Missouri Valley club, had its hands full with the New Mexico Aggies, who lost to Rice and Arkansas earlier in the week. Roger Wendel, who led the Tulsa scorers with 16 points, insured the victory with a pair of free throws with a little more than a minute remaining.

Minor Loops Angered by Big Club TV

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—The minor leagues, united in a revolt against Sunday major league TV invasion of their territory, waited today for an answer to their demands for a new congressional investigation of baseball.

The enraged minors, led by Frank Shaughnessy of the International League, fired off appeals to Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and Rep. Frank Keating (R-NY).

Celler was urged to reopen an investigation of baseball and other sports conducted last June.

Minor executives bristled over reports at least five major clubs—New York, Cleveland, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia and Cincinnati — have signed to telecast a selected Sunday game of the week.

"I told them that it was a case of greed on their part — plain greed," Shaughnessy said. He said the majors pick up $2 million yearly from the Saturday game of the week, telecast the last three years.

"A Sunday game would just about kill the minors off altogether," Shaughnessy said. Asked if the minors wanted a share of the TV income, Shaughnessy said: "We don't want their damn money and we don't want their damn TV."

USTA To Hear Anti-Trust Status

COLUMBUS (AP) — Harness racing's position in relation to federal anti-trust laws will be discussed by directors of the U. S. Trotting Assn. at their annual meeting here this weekend.

The 41-member USTA board of directors will convene Sunday to hear a report on the anti-trust angle from Breck P. McAllister, New York attorney who has been studying the question for the horse men. The Justice Department disclosed some time ago that it is considering the position of harness racing, as well as football and baseball, in relation to the anti-trust laws.

Women's Bowling Champ Spotlighted

The 42-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., grandmother fired a spectacular 922 in four games to lead the field of 64 women seeking berths in the matchgame finals. Mrs. Ladewig, 5 feet 4 and weighing 130 pounds, started with a 201 game, hit 265 in the second and followed with 234 and 222 for a 230 average.

Death Scene In Amish Trial Is Detailed

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—The death scene in the slaying of a young Amish farmer was described in detail by the victim's father Thursday before the first degree murder trial of Eugene Cleo Peters adjourned for the weekend.

The father, Moses Coblentz, of near Mount Hope, told of how he was awakened the night of July 18 by a dog's bark and someone's shouts coming from his son's home 200 feet away.

He raced to the scene, Coblentz said, and there saw his son Paul, 25, lying on the floor Paul was still breathing, the elder Coblentz testified.

Behind the body, the father continued, he saw Paul's wife Dora, screaming hysterically, her dress torn about her waist. Nearby, Coblentz said, the couple's 18-month-old daughter was crying.

Coblentz said he ran to a neighbor's house and called authorities. When he returned, he said, his son was still breathing and Dora was trying to wash blood away from a wound in Paul's shoulder.

The son died from his wounds.

Coblentz said when he later confronted Peters in the Holmes County jail, Peters admitted the slaying because he "needed money."

Peters, 19, of Muscatine, Iowa and his companion, Michael Dumoulin, 20, of Wooster, are accused of shooting Coblentz during a robbery. Dumoulin will be tried in January.

Mulloy and Seixas Cop Double Tilt

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — America's two old men of tennis, 44-year-old Gardnar Mulloy and 34-year-old Vic Seixas, crushed the Philippines' prized doubles team of Felicisimo Ampon and Raymondo Deyro in 45 crisp minutes today to land the United States in the Davis Cup Interzone final against Belgium next week.

Mulloy, tall, graying doubles specialist from Miami, and Seixas of Philadelphia, playing his 53rd Davis Cup match, won 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 to give America a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five match.

Carolina State Looming Large As Cage Power

This May Be Season Of Comeback for Atlantic Coast Quint

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina State's Wolfpack the perennial Atlantic Coast kingpins until Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels came along to dominate the league and win the national title, may make this the season for a comeback.

At least the Wolfpack started out on the right foot in the Conference competition. Thursday night, they turned back Wake Forest 62-51 on a late drive that increased a slim two point lead to 15 during a four-minute stretch.

The slim college basketball schedule also was highlighted by Minnesota's 67-66 victory over Iowa State and Georgia Tech's 73-62 triumph over Alabama.

In other games, Tulsa opened by downing New Mexico A&M 62-56; Richmond beat Virginia Tech 72-62 in a Southern Conference game; Nebraska downed Wyoming 77-66; Princeton defeated Lafayette 75-72; St. John's of Brooklyn rode over Roanoke 86-62 and Louisville walloped Georgetown, Ky. 74-54.

North Carolina State, which had a 7-7 Conference mark and was 15-11 over-all last season, was ranked behind North Carolina, Maryland and Duke, in the 1957-1958 pre-season estimates. But the Wolfpack appeared improved against Wake Forest. Particularly impressive was Bob MacGillvray, a 6-4 junior, who scored 20 points —nine during State's pivotal rally.

Richmond thwarted Virginia Tech's offense with a sliding zone defense in the second half. Tech had a four-point lead at the half.

Tulsa, a Missouri Valley club, had its hands full with the New Mexico Aggies, who lost to Rice and Arkansas earlier in the week. Roger Wendel, who led the Tulsa scorers with 16 points, insured the victory with a pair of free throws with a little more than a minute remaining.

Minor Loops Angered by Big Club TV

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—The minor leagues, united in a revolt against Sunday major league TV invasion of their territory, waited today for an answer to their demands for a new congressional investigation of baseball.

The enraged minors, led by Frank Shaughnessy of the International League, fired off appeals to Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and Rep. Frank Keating (R-NY).

Celler was urged to reopen an investigation of baseball and other sports conducted last June.

Minor executives bristled over reports at least five major clubs—New York, Cleveland, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia and Cincinnati — have signed to telecast a selected Sunday game of the week.

"I told them that it was a case of greed on their part — plain greed," Shaughnessy said. He said the majors pick up $2 million yearly from the Saturday game of the week, telecast the last three years.

"A Sunday game would just about kill the minors off altogether," Shaughnessy said. Asked if the minors wanted a share of the TV income, Shaughnessy said: "We don't want their damn money and we don't want their damn TV."

USTA To Hear Anti-Trust Status

COLUMBUS (AP) — Harness racing's position in relation to federal anti-trust laws will be discussed by directors of the U. S. Trotting Assn. at their annual meeting here this weekend.

The 41-member USTA board of directors will convene Sunday to hear a report on the anti-trust angle from Breck P. McAllister, New York attorney who has been studying the question for the horse men. The Justice Department disclosed some time ago that it is considering the position of harness racing, as well as football and baseball, in relation to the anti-trust laws.

Women's Bowling Champ Spotlighted

The 42-year-old Grand Rapids, Mich., grandmother fired a spectacular 922 in four games to lead the field of 64 women seeking berths in the matchgame finals. Mrs. Ladewig, 5 feet 4 and weighing 130 pounds, started with a 201 game, hit 265 in the second and followed with 234 and 222 for a 230 average.

Death Scene In Amish Trial Is Detailed

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—The death scene in the slaying of a young Amish farmer was described in detail by the victim's father Thursday before the first degree murder trial of Eugene Cleo Peters adjourned for the weekend.

The father, Moses Coblentz, of near Mount Hope, told of how he was awakened the night of July 18 by a dog's bark and someone's shouts coming from his son's home 200 feet away.

He raced to the scene, Coblentz said, and there saw his son Paul, 25, lying on the floor Paul was still breathing, the elder Coblentz testified.

Behind the body, the father continued, he saw Paul's wife Dora, screaming hysterically, her dress torn about her waist. Nearby, Coblentz said, the couple's 18-month-old daughter was crying.

Coblentz said he ran to a neighbor's house and called authorities. When he returned, he said, his son was still breathing and Dora was trying to wash blood away from a wound in Paul's shoulder.

The son died from his wounds.

Coblentz said when he later confronted Peters in the Holmes County jail, Peters admitted the slaying because he "needed money."

Peters, 19, of Muscatine, Iowa and his companion, Michael Dumoulin, 20, of Wooster, are accused of shooting Coblentz during a robbery. Dumoulin will be tried in January.

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — America's two old men of tennis, 44-year-old Gardnar Mulloy and 34-year-old Vic Seixas, crushed the Philippines' prized doubles team of Felicisimo Ampon and Raymondo Deyro in 45 crisp minutes today to land the United States in the Davis Cup Interzone final against Belgium next week.

Mulloy, tall, graying doubles specialist from Miami, and Seixas of Philadelphia, playing his 53rd Davis Cup match, won 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 to give America a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five match.

Jets Get New Pilot

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—Clyde King, 32-year-old former major league pitcher, has been appointed manager of the Columbus Jets of the International League.

Woman, 72, Finally Winner In Long Gold Stock Dispute

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 27-year international legal battle behind her, Mrs. Idonah Slade Perkins winged back toward her home in Manila today, 144,000 shares of Philippine gold mining stock finally in her possession.

She flew into Cincinnati Thursday, paused only long enough to collect stock certificates certifying her ownership from the clerk of Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, then boarded a westbound flight.

The spry, 72-year - old former New York resident, even so, complained to the court that price of the stock had declined from $25 to $1 a share during the years since 1930 in which she had taken her case to the courts of New York and California, the Supreme Court of the United States and the Philippines and then into the Common Pleas tribunals of Hamilton County (Cincinnati) and adjoining Clermont County.

The Cincinnati case was filed against First National Bank of this city, as transfer agent of the stock while the Clermont suit named as defendant John W. Haussermann, a native of the county who went to the Islands in 1898 as a Spanish War volunteer and remained to achieve fame as "gold king of the Philippines.

Since 1916 he has been president of the Benguet Consolidated Gold Mining Co., of Baguio, P.I. whose stock was involved in Mrs. Perkins' long battle.

Haussermann, one-time assistant attorney general of the islands, will observe his 90th birthday Dec. 14 on his Clermont County farm.

Mrs. Perkins originally acquired the stock in New York and took it with her to Manila, her residence as the wife of Eugene Arthur Perkins, for years general counsel for the mining firm. Perkins sued for divorce in 1930, claiming the stock under a Philippine statute which held, in effect, that no woman could own any property except the clothes on her back. The statute was repealed shortly after World War II.

Mrs. Perkins contested the action, citing her American origin and the fact that she acquired the stock in New York.

The Perkins were divorced in 1934. He died last April.

In February, 1955 the courts finally ruled in favor of Mrs. Perkins.

Once more, however, legal difficulties ensued. Her attorneys demanded 40,000 shares of the stock in lieu of a cash fee.

Mrs. Perkins refused and the court ordered the shares placed in escrow pending settlement. A cash agreement involving $25,922 ultimately was reached and the court then ordered release of the stock. Mrs. Perkins' flight into, and from the city Thursday, followed.

Annual All-Ohio Grid Team Selected in Poll of 300

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio draped the mantle of gridiron greatness over its scholastic stars today. The best of the Buckeye boys have been awarded berths on The 1957 Associated Press all-state high school team.

They come from everywhere—big schools and little schools, winning schools and losing schools—but each selection battled his way to the top on sheer individual brilliance.

In keeping with the high school style of unlimited substitutions, offensive and defensive teams were chosen — although many of the outstanding stars are "both way" players. Selections were made with the aid of more than 300 coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and officials. The all-star team is recognized as official by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Assn.

Members on The Associated Press squad will help the senior members along the way in the race for berths on the North-South squads. They will be selected this weekend by the coaches for the August game in Canton.

Bob Ferguson of Troy, block-busting fullback chosen as the state's No. 1 offensive star was the vote-getting standout and was awarded the captaincy of the first team. The second team captaincy went to Cleveland Benedictine's great halfback, George Sefcik, who just missed a first string job. Charley Young of Van Wert—who has never played in a losing game—grabbed the third team leadership.

The first team offensive unit, featuring explosive backs behind a huge but mobile line, is an all-senior combination. Only Massillon was able to place two men on it, the Tigers winning an end berth with Clyde Childers, and the left halfback spot with Ivory Benjamin. The latter, a 160-pounder who stands only five-eight, has East Liverpool's George Hale as his running mate. Hale, on a team which won only three of 10 games, averaged nine yards per carry, and scored 13 touchdowns and three extra points. Benjamin, with a 7.9-yard average, counted 17 times. He was named the most valuable player in Stark County.

Calling signals for the fleet backs is Tom King of Leo Strang's once-beaten East Cleveland Shaw team. King, a straight "A" student, is an outstanding ball-handler, passer and runner, and led the Lake Erie League in scoring. He was a 48-minute player.

Owensby Pearson of Akron South repeated at guard, where he is paired with Jerry Harbin of Marion Harding's Presidents. The center is 260 - pound Dave Owen of Northridge, near Dayton, who moves like a player weighing 100 pounds less.

The selections were made from among some 20,000 boys on the state squads, and a player must be a standout to land among even the honorable mentions.

Following is the complete tabulation of the all-state team:

5 Ohio College Cage Outfits Collect Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five Ohio college cage teams were in action Thursday night and all recorded victories. Four were home court wins, and Wilberforce edged out Oakland City College of Indiana 93-90 in the Hoosier state.

Wilberforce had to stave off a last half rally by Oakland to post its victory. Abe Booker and Fletcher Powers led the victors with 30 and 28 points, respectively.

The Bobcats, who upset Indiana Monday, were only challenged once. The Pioneers knotted the score 21-21 during the first half.

Ohio Wesleyan opened its basketball season and its Ohio Conference play with an 80-64 win over Otterbein.

The Bishops led all the way and Otterbein's only rally fell seven points short of tying Wesleyan in the second half.

The Bluffs, trailing 65-59 with three minutes remaining, turned on both offenses and defense, to score 11 points and hold the Student Princes scoreless.

Jeff Juniors Win At Madison Mills

A free thrown by Davidson with only three seconds left in the game gave the Jeffersonville Juniors a 40 to 39 victory over the Warrior Juniors in their game at Madison Mills Thursday after school.

The Madison Mills boys had led all the way until the last 30 seconds, when the scored was deadlocked at 39-all.

On the Jeffersonville squad (and the scoring) were Lovett 2, Avey 2, Steward 2, Stanley 10, Palmer 8, McDonald 9, Davidson 1, Williams 6 and Ellis 0.

On the Madison squad were Cox 2, Webb 3, Leonard Williams 11, Larry Williams 12, Browning 2, Butcher 9, Rolfe 0 and LeBeau 0.

It was the third win in four games for the Jeffersonville team and the second defeat in two games for the Madison juniors.

Logart Is Favored To Defeat Ortega

CLEVELAND (AP)—The loser of tonight's 12-round battle between Isaac Logart and Gaspar (Indian) Ortega will have a long wait for a crack at the vacant welterweight title.

The winner—and Logart is favored—will continue to scrap other fighters in an elimination tournament for the 147-pound division crown surrendered by Carmen Basilio. Basilio gave up the title after belting Sugar Ray Robinson out of the middleweight toga.

Tonight's fight is the first of the elimination series and the loser won't get another chance at the titic until the championship is settled among five other fighters.

Cincy Pro Cagers Nearing Leaders

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals, occupants of the Western Division cellar of the National Basketball Assn. when their franchise was in Rochester last season, have moved into a contending position for the lead.

The transplanted Royals downed the Detroit Pistons 109-99 and the first place St. Louis Hawks bowed to the Warriors 124-106 in a doubleheader here Thursday night.

The victory enabled runnerup Cincinnati to climb within a game and a half of the Hawks. Philadelpnia's triumph put them in a second-place tie with idle Syracuse in the Eastern Division.

Braves-Cubs Player Deal Irks Other NL Spokesmen

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —National League rivals for Milwaukee's crown expressed amazement, disbelief and just plain anger today over the five-player trade between the Braves and Chicago Cubs that further strengthened the world champions' heavily stocked pitching staff.

"I think that's awful," muttered Roy Hamey, general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies when informed that the Braves had acquired veteran pitcher Bob Rush, sophomore right-hander Don Kaiser and rookie outfielder Eddie Haas from Chicago in exchange for southpaw Taylor Phillips and catcher Sammy Taylor.

"What did the Braves use on those poor Cubbies, a gun? They were tough enough before. Now it looks like we really have our work cut out for us."

Mayo Smith, manager of the Phillies, wouldn't believe it at first. "How can they make a deal like that?" he asked. "I'd sure like to know."

Buzzie Bavasi, Los Angeles Dodgers vice president and general manager said: "It looks like that will make it that much tougher for us to catch them next year."

San Francisco Giants officials complained they had offered the Cubs much more in playing talent in a proposed deal involving Rush.

The transaction was the second of the day. Earlier, the St. Louis Cardinals sent three pitchers — veteran Willard Schmidt and rookie Marty Kutyna and Ted Wieland —to the Cincinnati Redlegs for two outfielders, Joe Taylor and rookie Curtis Flood.

The addition of Rush and Kaiser will complement a Milwaukee staff headed by southpaw Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, and backed up by Juan Pizarro, Gene Conley and Bob Trowbridge.

Rush was a much better pitcher last season than his 6-16 record indicated. He lost several 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 games, as well as a few in extra innings for the Cubs.

Lions of WHS in Wilmington Tonight

All Five Cage Teams in County Open Loop Play This Weekend

Although all five high school teams in the county already have launched their basketball season, the games played up to now have been hardly more than preliminaries for the big ones which start coming up this weekend.

Not that they don't like to win them all, but it is the league games on which they all have their sights set—the games which really count.

First league games will be played by all five teams this weekend—Bloomingburg's Bulldogs and the Mad Anthonys of Good Hope will meet Friday (tonight) at Bloomingburg in a Fayette County loop encounter and on Saturday night Jeffersonville's Tigers and the Madison Mills Warriors will clash in another Fayette County League tilt. The Tiger-Warrior game will be played on the Bloomingburg floor, too, because the gymnasiums at Jeffersonville and Madison Mills High Schools are not big enough to hold the expected crowds of rooters for both teams.

THE LIONS of Washington C. H. High School will play their first Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League game Friday (tonight) at Wilmington with the Hurricane.

The Lions lost their opener a week ago to Bexley here and the Hurricane has lost both of the games it has played this season. So, both teams will be out to get their first victory of the season.

The Lions will be at a slight height disadvantage against the Hurricane, but WHS Coach Herb Russell said Thursday evening that the Lions are in good spirits and are getting more self-assurance after that first game with Bexley.

In practices this week, he said, some of the rough spots that turned up in the Bexley game have been ironed out and added "the boys look good. . .and if that means anything, they'll be out to win this one if they can."

BUT TEMPERING some of the coach's optimism was his fear that the Lion's aggressiveness may lead to too many costly fouls. That He said that while he was hoping better timing will keep them out of trouble, he does not want to stifle their will to win.

Starting lineup for the Lions at Wilmington probably will be: Forwards—Tom Swaim, 5-11 and Bob Burris, 6-1; Center—Jim McWilliams, 6-3; Guards—Bill Herman, 5-7, and Phil Johnson, 5-9. Other members of the squad, most of whom probably will see action, are:Lloyd Southworth, Larry Milstead, Henry Roszmann, Ron Carter, Larry Burnett, Jack Wilson, Dick Willis and Jim Wilson.

Probable starters for the Hurricane are: Forwards — David Nared, 6, and Steve Rainer, 6-2; Center—Jerry McCune, 5 - 5; Guards, Howard Barnes, 5-7, and Harold Fields, 5-8.

Reserve teams will play the preliminaries in all three games.

New Holland's Bulldogs, just across the line in Pickaway County, who already have played three league games, will play their fourth Friday night at Monroe. Of the three leagues they have played the Bulldogs have won two and lost one.

Bulldog Juniors Win Fifth Game

The fifth win in five games was racked up by Bloomingburg's undefeated junior cagers, when they trounced the juniors at Good Hope Thursday noon.

On the Bloomingburg squad (and scoring) were Knisley 14, McCoy 6, Suttles 0, Ayers 13, Lucas, 2, Craig 6, Cook 0, Brown 0, Redd 0, Evans 0, Weaver 7, Roberts 1 and O'Cull 0.

On the Good Hope squad were Reisinger 8, Satters 1, Conaway 2, Hatfield 10, Kimball 4, Newell 0, Taylor 0, Parker 0, Clair 0, Haggard 0, Trenner 0 and McAllister 0.

Notre Dame, SMU Set for Battle

DALLAS (AP)—Notre Dame and Southern Methodist, each hoping to wind up with a winning season for the first time in three years, fire last shots of the college football campaign here Saturday.

The Irish, after a 7-3 record to offset one of their worst seasons in history, are heavy favorites to beat an SMU team that has done better than expected but still is only 50-50 for the year.

Any success Southern Methodist may have rests on the passing of Don Meredith, who has one of the greatest completion averages in football—.736 with 64 connections in 87 throws.

Pony Grid Uniforms Should Be Turned In

Pony football is all over now — has been for more than a month—but uniforms for three of the five teams have not yet been turned in to H. S. (Bud) Stemple, commissioner for the league during its first season.

And, Stemple and the adult board of directors are disturbed.

Those uniforms, they said, represent an investment of more than $2,000 by the team sponsors and Boosters Club, which backed the program.

Stemple said he had asked the coaches to turn in all the uniforms, protective equipment and helmets to him "as soon as possible" after the season so they can be cleaned and reconditioned and stored for use again next fall.

He pointed out that if the uniforms are not turned in, they will not only deteriorate, but also will get scattered and lost if permitted to lie around the homes of the boys.

Only uniforms turned in are those worn by the Big Boys and Splinters last fall.

Annual All-Ohio Grid Team Selected in Poll of 300

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio draped the mantle of gridiron greatness over its scholastic stars today. The best of the Buckeye boys have been awarded berths on The 1957 Associated Press all-state high school team.

They come from everywhere—big schools and little schools, winning schools and losing schools—but each selection battled his way to the top on sheer individual brilliance.

In keeping with the high school style of unlimited substitutions, offensive and defensive teams were chosen — although many of the outstanding stars are "both way" players. Selections were made with the aid of more than 300 coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and officials. The all-star team is recognized as official by the Ohio High School Football Coaches Assn.

Members on The Associated Press squad will help the senior members along the way in the race for berths on the North-South squads. They will be selected this weekend by the coaches for the August game in Canton.

Bob Ferguson of Troy, blockbusting fullback chosen as the state's No. 1 offensive star, was the vote-getting standout and was awarded the captaincy of the first team. The second team captaincy went to Cleveland Benedictine's great halfback, George Sefcik, who just missed a first string job. Charley Young of Van Wert—who has never played in a losing game—grabbed the third team leadership.

The first team offensive unit, featuring explosive backs behind a huge but mobile line, is an all-senior combination. Only Massillon was able to place two men on it, the Tigers winning an end berth with Clyde Childers, and the left halfback spot with Ivory Benjamin. The latter, a 160-pounder who stands only five-eight, has East Liverpool's George Hale as his running mate. Hale, on a team which won only three of 10 games, averaged nine yards per carry, and scored 13 touchdowns and three extra points. Benjamin, with a 7.9-yard average, counted 17 times. He was named the most valuable player in Stark County.

Calling signals for the fleet backs is Tom King of Leo Strang's once-beaten East Cleveland Shaw team. King, a straight "A" student, is an outstanding ball-handler, passer and runner, and led the Lake Erie League in scoring. He was a 48-minute player.

Owensby Pearson of Akron South repeated at guard, where he is paired with Jerry Harbin of Marion Harding's Presidents. The center is 260-pound Dave Owen of Northridge, near Dayton, who moves like a player weighing 100 pounds less.

The selections were made from among some 20,000 boys on the state squads, and a player must be a standout to land among even the honorable mentions.

Following is the complete tabulation of the all-state team:

5 Ohio College Cage Outfits Collect Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five Ohio college cage teams were in action Thursday night and all recorded victories. Four were home court wins, and Wilberforce edged out Oakland City College of Indiana 93-90 in the Hoosier state.

Wilberforce had to stave off a last half rally by Oakland to post its victory. Abe Booker and Fletcher Powers led the victors with 30 and 28 points, respectively.

A growing basketball rivalry in southeastern Ohio added another chapter Thursday night when Ohio University coasted to a 92-71 victory over Marietta.

The Bobcats, who upset Indiana Monday, were only challenged once. The Pioneers knotted the score 21-21 during the first half.

Ohio Wesleyan opened its basketball season and its Ohio Conference play with an 80-64 win over Otterbein.

The Bishops led all the way and Otterbein's only rally fell seven points short of tying Wesleyan in the second half.

Bluffton College had to come from behind in the closing minutes to win its cage opener from Heidelberg, 70-65.

The Bluffs, trailing 65-59 with three minutes remaining, turned on both offenses and defense, to score 11 points and hold the Student Princes scoreless.

Jeff Juniors Win At Madison Mills

A free thrown by Davidson with only three seconds left in the game gave the Jeffersonville Juniors a 40 to 39 victory over the Warrior Juniors in their game at Madison Mills Thursday after school.

The Madison Mills boys had led all the way until the last 30 seconds, when the scored was deadlocked at 39-all.

On the Jeffersonville squad (and the scoring) were Lovett 2, Avey 2, Steward 2, Stanley 10, Palmer 8, McDonald 9, Davidson 1, Williams 6 and Ellis 0.

On the Madison squad were Cox 2, Webb 3, Leonard Williams 11, Larry Williams 12, Browning 2, Butcher 9, Rolfe 0 and LeBeau 0.

It was the third win in four games for the Jeffersonville team and the second defeat in two games for the Madison juniors.

Logart Is Favored To Defeat Ortega

CLEVELAND (AP)—The loser of tonight's 12-round battle between Isaac Logart and Gaspar (Indian) Ortega will have a long wait for a crack at the vacant welterweight title.

The winner—and Logart is favored—will continue to scrap other fighters in an elimination tournament for the 147-pound division crown surrendered by Carmen Basilio. Basilio gave up the title after belting Sugar Ray Robinson out of the middleweight toga.

Tonight's fight is the first of the elimination series and the loser won't get another chance at the titic until the championship is settled among five other fighters.

Cincy Pro Cagers Nearing Leaders

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals, occupants of the Western Division cellar of the National Basketball Assn. when their franchise was in Rochester last season, have moved into a contending position for the lead.

The transplanted Royals downed the Detroit Pistons 109-99 and the first place St. Louis Hawks bowed to the Warriors 124-109 in a doubleheader here Thursday night.

The victory enabled runnerup Cincinnati to climb within a game and a half of the Hawks. Philadelphia's triumph put them in a second-place tie with idle Syracuse in the Eastern Division.

Braves-Cubs Player Deal Irks Other NL Spokesmen

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —National League rivals for Milwaukee's crown expressed amazement, disbelief and just plain anger today over the five-player trade between the Braves and Chicago Cubs that further strengthened the world champions' heavily stocked pitching staff.

"I think that's awful," muttered Roy Hamey, general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies when informed that the Braves had acquired veteran pitcher Bob Rush, sophomore right-hander Don Kaiser and rookie outfielder Eddie Haas from Chicago in exchange for southpaw Taylor Phillips and catcher Sammy Taylor.

"What did the Braves use on those poor Cubbies, a gun? They were tough enough before. Now it looks like we really have our work cut out for us."

Mayo Smith, manager of the Phillies, wouldn't believe it at first. "How can they make a deal like that?" he asked. "I'd sure like to know."

Buzzie Bavasi, Los Angeles Dodgers vice president and general manager said: "It looks like that will make it that much tougher for us to catch them next year."

San Francisco Giants officials complained they had offered the Cubs much more in playing talent in a proposed deal involving Rush.

The transaction was the second of the day. Earlier, the St. Louis Cardinals sent three pitchers — veteran Willard Schmidt and rookie Marty Kutyna and Ted Wieland —to the Cincinnati Redlegs for two outfielders, Joe Taylor and rookie Curtis Flood.

The addition of Rush and Kaiser will complement a Milwaukee staff headed by southpaw Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl, and backed up by Juan Pizarro, Gene Conley and Bob Trowbridge.

Rush was a much better pitcher last season than his 6-16 record indicated. He lost several 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 games, as well as a few in extra innings for the Cubs.

Lions of WHS in Wilmington Tonight

All Five Cage Teams in County Open Loop Play This Weekend

Although all five high school teams in the county already have launched their basketball season, the games played up to now have been hardly more than preliminaries for the big ones which start coming up this weekend.

Not that they don't like to win them all, but it is the league games on which they all have their sights set—the games which really count.

First league games will be played by all five teams this weekend—Bloomingburg's Bulldogs and the Mad Anthonys of Good Hope will meet Friday (tonight) at Bloomingburg in a Fayette County loop encounter and on Saturday night Jeffersonville's Tigers and the Madison Mills Warriors will clash in another Fayette County League tilt. The Tiger-Warrior game will be played on the Bloomingburg floor, too, because the gymnasiums at Jeffersonville and Madison Mills High Schools are not big enough to hold the expected crowds of rooters for both teams.

THE LIONS of Washington C. H. High School will play their first Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League game Friday (tonight) at Wilmington with the Hurricane.

The Lions lost their opener a week ago to Bexley here and the Hurricane has lost both of the games it has played this season. So, both teams will be out to get their first victory of the season.

The Lions will be at a slight height disadvantage against the Hurricane, but WHS Coach Herb Russell said Thursday evening that the Lions are in good spirits and are getting more self-assurance after that first game with Bexley.

In practices this week, he said, some of the rough spots that turned up in the Bexley game have been ironed out and added "the boys look good. . .and if that means anything, they'll be out to win this one if they can."

BUT TEMPERING some of the coach's optimism was his fear that the Lion's aggressiveness may lead to too many costly fouls. That He said that while he was hoping better timing will keep them out of trouble, he does not want to stifle their will to win.

Starting lineup for the Lions at Wilmington probably will be: Forwards—Tom Swaim, 5-11 and Bob Burris, 6-1; Center—Jim McWilliams, 6-3; Guards—Bill Herman, 5-7, and Phil Johnson, 5-9. Other members of the squad, most of whom probably will see action, are:Lloyd Southworth, Larry Milstead, Henry Roszmann, Ron Carter, Larry Burnett, Jack Wilson, Dick Willis and Jim Wilson.

Probable starters for the Hurricane are: Forwards — David Nared, 6, and Steve Rainer, 6-2; Center—Jerry McCune, 5 - 5; Guards, Howard Barnes, 5-7, and Harold Fields, 5-8.

Reserve teams will play the preliminaries in all three games.

New Holland's Bulldogs, just across the line in Pickaway County, who already have played three league games, will play their fourth Friday night at Monroe. Of the three leagues they have played the Bulldogs have won two and lost one.

Bulldog Juniors Win Fifth Game

The fifth win in five games was racked up by Bloomingburg's undefeated junior cagers, when they trounced the juniors at Good Hope Thursday noon.

On the Bloomingburg squad (and scoring) were Knisley 14, McCoy 6, Suttles 0, Ayers 13, Lucas, 2, Craig 6, Cook 0, Brown 0, Redd 0, Evans 0, Weaver 7, Roberts 1 and O'Cull 0.

On the Good Hope squad were Reisinger 8, Satters 1, Conaway 2, Hatfield 10, Kimball 4, Newell 0, Taylor 0, Parker 0, Clair 0, Haggard 0, Trenner 0 and McAllister 0.

Notre Dame, SMU Set for Battle

DALLAS (AP)—Notre Dame and Southern Methodist, each hoping to wind up with a winning season for the first time in three years, fire last shots of the college football campaign here Saturday.

The Irish, after a 7-3 record to offset one of their worst seasons in history, are heavy favorites to beat an SMU team that has done better than expected but still is only 50-50 for the year.

Any success Southern Methodist may have rests on the passing of Don Meredith, who has one of the greatest completion averages in football—.736 with 64 connections in 87 throws.

Pony Grid Uniforms Should Be Turned In

Pony football is all over now — has been for more than a month—but uniforms for three of the five teams have not yet been turned in to H. S. (Bud) Stemple, commissioner for the league during its first season.

And, Stemple and the adult board of directors are disturbed.

Those uniforms, they said, represent an investment of more than $2,000 by the team sponsors and Boosters Club, which backed the program.

Stemple said he had asked the coaches to turn in all the uniforms, protective equipment and helmets to him "as soon as possible" after the season so they can be cleaned and reconditioned and stored for use again next fall.

He pointed out that if the uniforms are not turned in, they will not only deteriorate, but also will get scattered and lost if permitted to lie around the homes of the boys.

Only uniforms turned in are those worn by the Big Boys and Splinters last fall.

The pony football program was for boys in the fifth and sixth grades in school.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Improvements On Route 35 To Be Urged

Association's Local Directors To Contact Division Engineers

Local directors of the U. S. Route 35 Assn. will confer with Frank Williams to discuss overall construction needs along the route in Fayette County, it was disclosed Friday.

William Stoughton, Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce manager, represented the county at a meeting of the Route 35 group in Xenia Thursday night.

It was decided that directors from each county along the highway should contact their own division engineers on possibilities for improvement in their areas.

City Manager James F. Parkinson and C. of C. President Walter Mogrow are Fayette County directors of the group.

IN ADDITION to members from Fayette, Gallia, Jackson, Ross, and Greene counties who organized the association, there were representatives from Preble and Montgomery counties at Thursday night's meeting. Both Dayton and Eaton have shown interest in improving Route 35 over its length from Richmond, Ind., to Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Results of a traffic hazard survey along the highway were reviewed at the meeting. Principal Fayette County hazards are the bottleneck in Washington C. H. and a number of "blind intersections" with county highways.

The next meeting of the group will be in Gallipolis Feb. 6.

Incorporation papers for the association are being completed, it was announced.

12 Georgians Killed as Gas Line Explodes

VILLA RICA, Ga. (AP) — Grim-faced men resumed the search for additional bodies today in the blackened wreckage left by a terrific gas explosion and fire in this northwest Georgia town of 3,500.

Half a block was leveled by the blast Thursday. Twelve persons were known to have been killed and about 20 injured.

The town was without gas service, and people were warned not to turn on appliances.

The tragedy was the whole town's.

There was a boy who broke a tooth in school and went to the dentist's office and died; a nurse who kept on working after the bodies of her brother and father were brought in; the people who visited a dime store to buy Christmas ornaments and were carried out later on stretchers.

The explosion demolished a drug-store, dress shop, 10-cent store, jewelry and florist shop and a second-floor dentist's office. It was attributed by police to a faulty gas line in the basement of the drug-store.

Oscar Hixon, superintendent of the municipally owned gas system, was working on the line at the time and was killed. Also killed were O. T. Dyer and his son Johnny, who were working with Hixon.

BROWNIE TROOP 62

Brownie Troop 62 made plans for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 19, at which the three other Brownie Troop are invited, when it met after school Thursday.

The "Brownie Promise" was led by Judy Lightle and Debbie Pyle. Patsy Bennett called the roll with each girl naming her favorite Christmas Carol. Dues were collected by Beverly Martin.

As their project the girls brought toys to be given to the American Legion toy collection. They also made Christmas gifts for their fathers.

Overtime Parking Costs Driver $7

Police had it towed to a garage and impounded at 11 a. m. Thursday after two overtime parking tickets had been ignored.

Thursday evening Blachschleger went to police when he found his car missing. He paid for the parking tickets and $5 for towing it to a garage and the time and trouble it took to open the locked doors.

British Lords Give OK To Women Members

LONDON (AP)—One of the male animal's last citadels, the British House of Lords, Thursday night agreed to a petticoat infiltration.

The upper house of the British Parliament unanimously approved a bill authorizing Queen Elizabeth II, on recommendation of the government, to create life-time peers, both male and female, who would sit with the lords.

After the formality of another passage by the lords, the bill will go to the House of Commons. Government sponsorship assures its passage there.

Five Hunters Leave $171 Here

One Brought Back To Municipal Court

Four of them, all arrested Thursday by Conservation Officer Charles Cooper, forfeited bonds they had posted.

The fifth, Henry R. Warren, 28, Cincinnati, was brought into court by Sheriff Orland Hays on a bench warrant issued by Judge Max G. Dice. He was arrested by Officer Cooper Nov. 15 and charged with (1) failure to exhibit a hunting license and (2) for trespassing on the Stewart Smith farm in Union Twp. He was released on bonds for each offense, but posted only part of the bonds and promised to send the remainder. When he failed to appear or put up the rest of the bond money, he was brought back to face the charges.

He pleaded guilty to failure to exhibit a hunting license and was fined $15 and costs. (The costs were $8.70 court costs and $14 sheriff's costs for bringing him back.) He pleaded not guilty to the trespass charge but was found guilty and was fined $10 and costs, but $5 of the fine was suspended.

George Brandenberg, 43, Cincinnati, and Tony Barney, 41, Blue Ash, a Cincinnati suburb, each forfeited a $20 bond for hunting without permission on the Edith Worthington land.

James W. Hardin, 24, South Shore, Ky., and Junior Hardin, 19, South Shore, Ky., each forfeited a $50 bond for hunting in Concord Township with invalid (Ohio) licenses.

At the same session of court, Carl D. Wilson, 60, Route 2, and Frances Nellie King, 35, Route 6, each was fined $5 and costs for running the red light on S. Fayette St. at the Sunnyside School.

Three drivers arrested by the State Highway Patrol each forfeited $20 bonds for speeding on Route 62. They were Glenn A. Childress of Cincinnati, Willie T. Ferrett of Allons, Tenn., and Mabel R. Carle of Cleveland Heights.

Ohio Woman Believes Mate Met Foul Play

MINERVA (AP)—A Minerva woman whose husband and two other men disappeared four weeks ago during a deer-hunting trip to Canada has challenged a report from Canada that the men probably drowned when their motorboat upset in the Ottawa River.

Mrs. H. H. Bower thinks her 55-year-old husband and two younger Minerva men were murdered by someone who stole some of their equipment then arranged the evidence to indicate drowning.

Missing along with H. H. (Bill) Bower are Warren J. Custis, 36, and John Kenneth Moore, 30.

Their boat, with a hole near the waterline, was found on the Quebec side of the river, and the motor, throttle open and in reverse, was under 5½ feet of water only 10 feet off the Ontario shore and a short distance down stream, Mrs. Bower said. The river at that point, 50 miles north of Ottawa, is two miles wide.

The trio of hunters was due back here Sunday, Nov. 10. A game warden reported seeing a light in their tent Friday, Nov. 8, Mrs. Bower said. The warden, Henri Bedard, reported that he believed the Minerva men's boat, heavily laden with deer meat, had swamped and overturned in attempting to cross the river during a storm and winds Saturday.

"The evidence points to foul play," said Mrs. Bower, who has offered a $5,000 reward for information that her husband is alive or $500 for his body.

Hays Declines Presidency of Sheriff Assn.

Fayette County Sheriff Orland Hays Thursday declined the presidency of the Buckeye State Sheriffs Assn.—because it would take too much time away from my duties and because my first obligation is to Fayette County."

Hays, who attended the BSSA annual meeting in Columbus, was the only nominee for the presidency. He stepped aside and nominated Sheriff John Bridenbaugh of Defiance County who was elected to the office.

Hays has been serving as first vice president of the state association. He and other retiring officers received .38 caliber "police special" revolvers in recognition of their services.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson accompanied Sheriff Hays to the state meeting.

Surgeon Says Doctors Now Get Careless

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The rise of the wonder drugs has made doctors less careful about germ precaution measures in hospitals and operating rooms, a Philadelphia surgeon said today.

Dr. H. Taylor Caswell of Temple University Hospital told the closing session of the American Medical Assn.'s 11th annual clinical meeting: "The medical profession has come to regard the problem of infection much less seriously than it did prior to the development of antibiotics. We are now in an era when this attitude must be changed."

Declaring that certain strains of staphylococci germs have become resistant to most of the wonder drugs and that they present "a serious problem in hospitalized patients," Dr. Caswell said: "A return to the most strict hospital techniques of sterilization is essential. Unless this is done, successful control of infections in hospital patients with antibiotic resistant staphylococci is doomed to failure."

These wily bugs, he said, have been reported as sources of infections in various hospital targets including clean surgical wounds; in newborn babies as skin ailments; in nursing mothers as breast abscesses; in the respiratory tract as a form of pneumonia; and in severe types of stomach or intestinal inflammation in postoperative patients.

4-H Club Activities

BELLA DONNAS

The Bella Donnas 4-H club held its third meeting of the year at the Eber school this week.

A committee was appointed to make favors to be distributed to rest homes during the Christmas season. Working on the project are Karen Carmen, Barbara Olinger, Barbara Carman, Marsha Craig, Jennifer Mason and Linda Miller.

All the members had brought sandwiches and cakes they had baked at home, which were served with drinks prepared by Mary Massie for refreshments.

The girls voted to hold their Christmas party the evening of Dec. 23 at the home of Mrs. Walter Carman. Following this party the group will exchange presents and go caroling.

Next meeting will be Jan. 13, 1958.

December 8, 1922

Our business was established December 8, 1922 by a group of men who believed and wanted to promote thrift and home ownership for Washington Court House and the surrounding community.

In the thirty-five years since the establishment of our business hundreds of families have had the satisfaction of a debt free home because of services rendered here. Also many people have experienced the satisfaction of saving money which has earned liberal dividends through the years.

In the future as in the past we do propose throughout the coming years to further the interest of thrift and home ownership among our people.

New Holland Remonstrates Against Pickaway Merger

NEW HOLLAND — Remonstrance petitions filed by New Holland residents against a proposed consolidation of Pickaway County school districts have been ruled as "insufficient" by the county board of education, but the consolidation will not become effective until the State Board of Education passes on the protests.

County Superintendent George McDowell said that the New Holland petition was one of two filed from the newly created Western District. Wayne Township filed a petition asking that its students become a part of the Circleville city school district. A total of 86 names appeared on the Wayne Township petition. On the New Holland petition, 283 names appeared.

"However," McDowell said, "to invalidate the county board's action, a total of 1,021 names would be necessary Thus, assuming that all names on the two petitions were valid, and such a check is not anticipated, the number would be far short of the amount needed."

THE CONSOLIDATION would merge the New Holland, Atlanta, Williamsport, Monroe, Muhlenberg, Darby, Jackson and Wayne districts into what is termed the Western District.

At the same time, a Northeastern district, was created composed of the present Ashville, Walnut, Harrison, Madison and Scioto districts.

THE NEW HOLLAND people showed their overwhelming preference for merger with Miami Trace, in Fayette County, or at least something better than was offered them, as nearly 90 per cent of those eligible signed the remonstrance petitions.

Based on the Nov. 5 election, 319 persons were eligible to sign in the district. Only 36 persons who did not sign the petitions.

Regardless of the outcome of this move, the New Holland case for merger with Miami Trace must still be considered by the state board of education. It is expected committee conferences on this proposal will be started by the state board in the very near future.

12 Georgians Killed as Gas Line Explodes

VILLA RICA, Ga. (AP) — Grim-faced men resumed the search for additional bodies today in the blackened wreckage left by a terrific gas explosion and fire in this northwest Georgia town of 3,500.

Half a block was leveled by the blast Thursday. Twelve persons were known to have been killed and about 20 injured.

The town was without gas service, and people were warned not to turn on appliances.

The tragedy was the whole town's.

There was a boy who broke a tooth in school and went to the dentist's office and died; a nurse who kept on working after the bodies of her brother and father were brought in; the people who visited a dime store to buy Christmas ornaments and were carried out later on stretchers.

The explosion demolished a drug-store, dress shop, 10-cent store, jewelry and florist shop and a second-floor dentist's office. It was attributed by police to a faulty gas line in the basement of the drug-store.

Oscar Hixon, superintendent of the municipally owned gas system, was working on the line at the time and was killed. Also killed were O. T. Dyer and his son Johnny, who were working with Hixon.

BROWNIE TROOP 62

Brownie Troop 62 made plans for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 19, at which the three other Brownie Troop are invited, when it met after school Thursday.

The "Brownie Promise" was led by Judy Lightle and Debbie Pyle. Patsy Bennett called the roll with each girl naming her favorite Christmas Carol. Dues were collected by Beverly Martin.

As their project the girls brought toys to be given to the American Legion toy collection. They also made Christmas gifts for their fathers.

Overtime Parking Costs Driver $7

Police had it towed to a garage and impounded at 11 a. m. Thursday after two overtime parking tickets had been ignored.

Thursday evening Blachschleger went to police when he found his car missing. He paid for the parking tickets and $5 for towing it to a garage and the time and trouble it took to open the locked doors.

British Lords Give OK To Women Members

LONDON (AP)—One of the male animal's last citadels, the British House of Lords, Thursday night agreed to a petticoat infiltration.

The upper house of the British Parliament unanimously approved a bill authorizing Queen Elizabeth II, on recommendation of the government, to create life-time peers, both male and female, who would sit with the lords.

After the formality of another passage by the lords, the bill will go to the House of Commons. Government sponsorship assures its passage there.

Peters, a senior in the University's College of Agriculture, was one of 43 seniors honored with membership. Also initiated at the banquet were three alumni, nine faculty members and 26 graduate students.

Five Hunters Leave $171 Here

One Brought Back To Municipal Court

Four of them, all arrested Thursday by Conservation Officer Charles Cooper, forfeited bonds they had posted.

The fifth, Henry R. Warren, 28, Cincinnati, was brought into court by Sheriff Orland Hays on a bench warrant issued by Judge Max G. Dice. He was arrested by Officer Cooper Nov. 15 and charged with (1) failure to exhibit a hunting license and (2) for trespassing on the Stewart Smith farm in Union Twp. He was released on bonds for each offense, but posted only part of the bonds and promised to send the remainder. When he failed to appear or put up the rest of the bond money, he was brought back to face the charges.

He pleaded guilty to failure to exhibit a hunting license and was fined $15 and costs. (The costs were $8.70 court costs and $14 sheriff's costs for bringing him back.) He pleaded not guilty to the trespass charge but was found guilty and was fined $10 and costs, but $5 of the fine was suspended.

George Brandenberg, 43, Cincinnati, and Tony Barney, 41, Blue Ash, a Cincinnati suburb, each forfeited a $20 bond for hunting without permission on the Edith Worthington land.

James W. Hardin, 24, South Shore, Ky., and Junior Hardin, 19, South Shore, Ky., each forfeited a $50 bond for hunting in Concord Township with invalid (Ohio) licenses.

At the same session of court, Carl D. Wilson, 60, Route 2, and Frances Nellie King, 35, Route 6, each was fined $5 and costs for running the red light on S. Fayette St. at the Sunnyside School.

Three drivers arrested by the State Highway Patrol each forfeited $20 bonds for speeding on Route 62. They were Glenn A. Childress of Cincinnati, Willie T. Ferrett of Allons, Tenn., and Mabel R. Carle of Cleveland Heights.

Ohio Woman Believes Mate Met Foul Play

MINERVA (AP)—A Minerva woman whose husband and two other men disappeared four weeks ago during a deer-hunting trip to Canada has challenged a report from Canada that the men probably drowned when their motorboat upset in the Ottawa River.

Mrs. H. H. Bower thinks her 55-year-old husband and two younger Minerva men were murdered by someone who stole some of their equipment then arranged the evidence to indicate drowning.

Missing along with H. H. (Bill) Bower are Warren J. Custis, 36, and John Kenneth Moore, 30.

Their boat, with a hole near the waterline, was found on the Quebec side of the river, and the motor, throttle open and in reverse, was under 5½ feet of water only 10 feet off the Ontario shore and a short distance down stream, Mrs. Bower said. The river at that point, 50 miles north of Ottawa, is two miles wide.

The trio of hunters was due back here Sunday, Nov. 10. A game warden reported seeing a light in their tent Friday, Nov. 8, Mrs. Bower said. The warden, Henri Bedard, reported that he believed the Minerva men's boat, heavily laden with deer meat, had swamped and overturned in attempting to cross the river during a storm and winds Saturday.

"The evidence points to foul play," said Mrs. Bower, who has offered a $5,000 reward for information that her husband is alive or $500 for his body.

Hays Declines Presidency of Sheriff Assn.

Fayette County Sheriff Orland Hays Thursday declined the presidency of the Buckeye State Sheriffs Assn.—because it would take too much time away from my duties and because my first obligation is to Fayette County."

Hays, who attended the BSSA annual meeting in Columbus, was the only nominee for the presidency. He stepped aside and nominated Sheriff John Bridenbaugh of Defiance County who was elected to the office.

Hays has been serving as first vice president of the state association. He and other retiring officers received .38 caliber "police special" revolvers in recognition of their services.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson accompanied Sheriff Hays to the state meeting.

Surgeon Says Doctors Now Get Careless

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The rise of the wonder drugs has made doctors less careful about germ precaution measures in hospitals and operating rooms, a Philadelphia surgeon said today.

Dr. H. Taylor Caswell of Temple University Hospital told the closing session of the American Medical Assn.'s 11th annual clinical meeting: "The medical profession has come to regard the problem of infection much less seriously than it did prior to the development of antibiotics. We are now in an era when this attitude must be changed."

Declaring that certain strains of staphylococci germs have become resistant to most of the wonder drugs and that they present "a serious problem in hospitalized patients," Dr. Caswell said: "A return to the most strict hospital techniques of sterilization is essential. Unless this is done, successful control of infections in hospital patients with antibiotic resistant staphylococci is doomed to failure."

These wily bugs, he said, have been reported as sources of infections in various hospital targets including clean surgical wounds; in newborn babies as skin ailments; in nursing mothers as breast abscesses; in the respiratory tract as a form of pneumonia; and in severe types of stomach or intestinal inflammation in postoperative patients.

4-H Club Activities

BELLA DONNAS

The Bella Donnas 4-H club held its third meeting of the year at the Eber school this week.

A committee was appointed to make favors to be distributed to rest homes during the Christmas season. Working on the project are Karen Carmen, Barbara Olinger, Barbara Carman, Marsha Craig, Jennifer Mason and Linda Miller.

All the members had brought sandwiches and cakes they had baked at home, which were served with drinks prepared by Mary Massie for refreshments.

The girls voted to hold their Christmas party the evening of Dec. 23 at the home of Mrs. Walter Carman. Following this party the group will exchange presents and go caroling.

Next meeting will be Jan. 13, 1958.

Our 35th Birthday
December 8, 1922

Our business was established December 8, 1922 by a group of men who believed and wanted to promote thrift and home ownership for Washington Court House and the surrounding community.

In the thirty-five years since the establishment of our business hundreds of families have had the satisfaction of a debt free home because of services rendered here. Also many people have experienced the satisfaction of saving money which has earned liberal dividends through the years.

In the future as in the past we do propose throughout the coming years to further the interest of thrift and home ownership among our people.

New Holland Remonstrates Against Pickaway Merger

NEW HOLLAND — Remonstrance petitions filed by New Holland residents against a proposed consolidation of Pickaway County school districts have been ruled as "insufficient" by the county board of education, but the consolidation will not become effective until the State Board of Education passes on the protests.

County Superintendent George McDowell said that the New Holland petition was one of two filed from the newly created Western District. Wayne Township filed a petition asking that its students become a part of the Circleville city school district. A total of 86 names appeared on the Wayne Township petition. On the New Holland petition, 283 names appeared.

"However," McDowell said, "to invalidate the county board's action, a total of 1,021 names would be necessary Thus, assuming that all names on the two petitions were valid, and such a check is not anticipated, the number would be far short of the amount needed."

THE CONSOLIDATION would merge the New Holland, Atlanta, Williamsport, Monroe, Muhlenberg, Darby, Jackson and Wayne districts into what is termed the Western District.

At the same time, a Northeastern district, was created composed of the present Ashville, Walnut, Harrison, Madison and Scioto districts.

THE NEW HOLLAND people showed their overwhelming preference for merger with Miami Trace, in Fayette County, or at least something better than was offered them, as nearly 90 per cent of those eligible signed the remonstrance petitions.

Based on the Nov. 5 election, 319 persons were eligible to sign in the district. Only 36 persons who did not sign the petitions.

Regardless of the outcome of this move, the New Holland case for merger with Miami Trace must still be considered by the state board of education. It is expected committee conferences on this proposal will be started by the state board in the very near future.
